

CONCEPT 49.1: Nervous systems consist of circuits of neurons and supporting cells

- Bilaterally symmetrical animals exhibit cephalization, the clustering of sensory organs at the front end of the body
- The simplest such animals, flatworms, have a central nervous system (CNS) consisting of a small brain and longitudinal nerve cords
- The peripheral nervous system (PNS) consists of neurons carrying information into and out of the CNS
- Nervous system organization usually correlates with lifestyle

- Annelids and arthropods have segmentally arranged clusters of neurons called ganglia
- Sessile molluscs (for example, clams and chitons) have simple systems, whereas more complex molluscs (for example, octopuses and squids) have more sophisticated systems

- In vertebrates
 - The CNS is composed of the brain and spinal cord
 - The PNS is composed of nerves and ganglia
- Regional specialization is a hallmark of both systems

Organization of the Vertebrate Nervous System

- The CNS develops from the hollow dorsal nerve cord
- The cavity of the nerve cord gives rise to the narrow central canal of the spinal cord and the ventricles of the brain
- The canal and ventricles fill with cerebrospinal fluid, which supplies the CNS with nutrients and hormones and carries away wastes
- The brain and spinal cord contain
 - Gray matter, which consists of neuron cell bodies, dendrites, and unmyelinated axons
 - White matter, which consists of bundles of myelinated axons

- The spinal cord conveys information to and from the brain and generates basic patterns of locomotion
- The spinal cord also produces reflexes independently of the brain
- A reflex is the body's automatic response to a stimulus
 - For example, a doctor uses a mallet to trigger a knee-jerk reflex

The Peripheral Nervous System

- The PNS transmits information to and from the CNS and regulates movement and the internal environment
- In the PNS, afferent neurons transmit information to the CNS, and efferent neurons transmit information away from the CNS
- The PNS has two efferent components: the motor system and the autonomic nervous system
- The motor system carries signals to skeletal muscles and can be voluntary or involuntary
- The autonomic nervous system regulates smooth and cardiac muscles and is generally involuntary
- The enteric nervous system exerts direct, partially independent, control over the digestive tract, pancreas, and gallbladder
- The autonomic nervous system has sympathetic and parasympathetic divisions

- In both sympathetic and parasympathetic systems, the pathway for information flow involves a preganglionic and postganglionic neuron
- Preganglionic neurons have cell bodies in the CNS and release acetylcholine as a neurotransmitter; postganglionic neurons of the parasympathetic division release acetylcholine
- Their counterparts in the sympathetic division release norepinephrine
- The nervous systems of vertebrates and most invertebrates include glial cells in addition to neurons
- Glial cells, or glia, have numerous functions to nourish, support, and regulate neurons
 - Embryonic radial glia form tracks along which newly formed neurons migrate
 - Astrocytes participate in the formation of the blood-brain barrier, which restricts the entry of most substances into the brain

CONCEPT 49.2: The vertebrate brain is regionally specialized

- The vertebrate brain has three major regions: the forebrain, midbrain, and hindbrain
- Each region is specialized in function
- The forebrain has activities including processing of olfactory input, regulation of sleep, learning, and any complex processing
