The K-3 Guide to Academic Conversations Jeff Zwiers, Sara Hamerla, 2017-10-25

For thousands of years people have been using the skills we describe in this book to engage in conversations with others. What isn't as prevalent however is instruction especially in primary grades in which we engage students in productive conversations about academic ideas. This book fills that very big need. Jeff Zwiers, Sara Hamerla. Talk about content mastery. Primary teachers you won't want to miss this if you're looking for a single resource to foster purposeful content discussions and high quality interpersonal engagement then put Jeff Zwiers and Sara Hamerla's K-3 Guide to Academic Conversations at the top of your reading list. Whether your students love to talk or not all must be equipped with key conversation skills such as active listening, taking turns, posing, clarifying, supporting with examples and arguing ideas. This ready resource comes packed with every imaginable tool you could need to make academic conversations part of your everyday teaching. Sample lesson plans and anchor charts. Guidelines for creating effective prompts. Applications across content areas with corresponding assessments. Rubrics and protocols for listening to student speech. Transcripts of conversations and questions for reflection. Companion website with video and downloadable resources. Tens of thousands of students in the upper grades have reaped the benefits of academic conversations: high quality face-to-face interactions, increased motivation, stronger collaborative argumentation skills and better understanding and retention of content. The K-3 Guide to Academic Conversations is that resource for providing your primary students with the same powerful learning opportunities.

Academic Conversations Jeff Zwiers, Marie Crawford, 2023. Where would we be without conversation? Throughout history, conversations have allowed us to see different perspectives, build ideas and solve problems. Conversations, particularly those referred to in this book as academic conversations, push students to think and learn in lasting ways. Academic conversations are back-and-forth dialogues in which students focus on a topic and explore it by building, challenging and negotiating relevant ideas. Unfortunately, academic conversations are rare in many classrooms. Talk is often dominated by the teacher and a few students or it does not advance beyond short responses to the teacher's questions. Even certain teaching approaches and curriculum programs neglect to train students how to maintain a focused, respectful and thoughtful conversation. To address these challenges, authors Jeff Zwiers and Marie Crawford have identified five core communication skills to help students hold productive academic conversations across content areas. These skills include elaborating and clarifying, supporting ideas with evidence, building on and/or challenging ideas, paraphrasing and synthesizing. This book shows teachers how to weave the cultivation of academic conversation skills and conversations into current teaching approaches. More specifically, it describes how to use conversations to build the following: Academic vocabulary and grammar; Critical thinking skills such as persuasion, interpretation, consideration of multiple perspectives, evaluation, and application; Literacy skills such as questioning, predicting, connecting to prior knowledge, and summarizing; Complex and abstract essential understandings in content areas such as adaptation, human nature, bias, conservation of mass, energy, gravity, irony, democracy, greed, and more. An academic classroom environment brimming with respect for others' ideas, equity of voice, engagement, and mutual support. The ideas in this book stem from many hours of classroom practice, research, and video analysis across grade levels and content areas. Readers will find numerous practical activities for working on each conversation skill, crafting conversation-worthy tasks, and using conversations to teach and assess. Academic Conversations offers an in-depth approach to helping students develop into the future parents, teachers, and leaders who will collaborate to build a better world. increased motivation stronger collaborative argumentation skills and better understanding and retention of content The K 3 Guide to Academic Conversations is that resource for providing your primary students with the same powerful learning opportunities Academic Language Mastery: Conversational Discourse in Context Jeff Zwiers,Ivannia

Soto,2016-07-22 By now it s a given if we re to help our ELLs and SELs access the rigorous demands of today s content standards we must cultivate the code that drives school success academic language Look no further for assistance than this much anticipated series from Ivannia Soto in which she invites field authorities Jeff Zwiers David and Yvonne Freeman Margarita Calderon and Noma LeMoine to share every teacher s need to know strategies on the four essential components of academic language The subject of this volume is conversational discourse Here Jeff Zwiers reveals the power of academic conversation in helping students develop language clarify concepts comprehend complex texts and fortify thinking and relational skills With this book as your roadmap you ll learn how to Foster the skills and language students must develop for productive interactions Implement strategies for scaffolding paired conversations Assess student s oral language development as you go It s imperative that our ELLs and SELs practice academic language in rich conversations with others in school especially when our classrooms may be their only opportunities to receive modeling scaffolding and feedback focused on effective discourse This book in concert with the other three volumes in the series can provide both a foundation and a framework for accelerating the learning of diverse students across grade levels and disciplines Building Academic Language Jeff Zwiers,2013-02-20 Many students ranging from native English speakers to recent immigrants need help in understanding and using the language of school Language is the lifeblood of learning in all content areas and it plays a major role in academic achievement Building Academic Language explains the functions and features of academic language that every teacher language arts history math science teachers etc should know for supporting academic reading writing and discussion The book includes research based instructional and assessment activities that content teachers can use to build students abilities to understand and describe the many abstract concepts higher order thinking skills and complex relationships in a discipline The book emphasizes an approach that builds from students existing ways of learning and communicating scaffolding them to think and talk as content area experts think and talk about math science history and language arts Major topics and themes include What is academic language and how does it differ by content area How can language building activities discussions small groups etc support content understanding How can we build language abilities for content reading and writing and vice versa How can we build on students diverse ways of understanding learning and communicating about the world How can we more effectively model and scaffold academic language in our teaching and assessment Teaching Academic Conversation to Improve Proficiency Jo Dougherty,2018 The Common Core State Standards CCSS require that all students including English Language Learners ELLs be able to use academic language across all content areas In order for this to occur we need to provide ELLs the necessary tools to engage in academic conversations in all subject areas These conversations can be powerful teachers that help ELLs learn academic vocabulary and the skills they need to improve communication as well as to produce high quality academic writing Unfortunately conversations which encourage ELLs to think more deeply and to communicate their ideas more clearly are not the norm in most classrooms By not providing them the opportunities to refine these skills needed to succeed academically and professionally we are doing these students a disservice Jeff Zwiers has become a leading researcher in the field of classroom language and literacy an his work with academic conversations will be examined in this paper His thoughts on cultivating the skills and language students need in order to interact effectively in the classroom as well as strategies for scaffolding academic conversations in pairs or groups and ideas for assessing academic language will be discussed and applies to the unit plan detailed at the end of this work Particular focus will be placed on Zwiers five core skills of academic conversation elaborating and clarifying supporting ideas with examples challenging or building upon a partner s idea paraphrasing and synthesizing and how teaching those skills will help prepare all students including ELLs for academic success according to the CCSS
