Biosaline Agriculture And High Salinity Tolerance:

Biosaline Agriculture and High Salinity Tolerance Chedly Abdelly, Münir Öztürk, Muhammad Ashraf, Claude Grignon, 2008-04-18 A major worldwide threat to agricultural productivity is undoubtedly due to environments with stressful factors including drought salinity and extreme temperatures Based on contributions presented at the International Conference on Biosaline Agriculture and High Salinity Tolerance held in Gammarth Tunisia November 2006 this book reviews the current state of knowledge in biosaline agriculture and high salinity tolerance in plants Halophytic and Salt-Tolerant Feedstuffs Hassan M. El Shaer, Victor Roy Squires, 2015-11-18 Naturally occurring salt tolerant and halophytic plants trees shrubs grasses and forbs have always been utilized by livestock as a supplement or drought reserve Salt tolerant forage and fodder crops are now being planted over wide areas Increasingly large scale production of fodder on formerly abandoned irrigated cropland has allowed salt t Biosaline Agriculture and Salinity Tolerance in Plants Münir Öztürk, Yoav Waisel, M. Ajman Khan, Güven Görk, 2009-09-03 This volume focuses on reclamation management and utilization of salt affected soils their sustainable use and evaluation of plants inhabiting naturally occurring saline habitats It is of interest to scientists and students as well as agricultural institutions and farmers to increase the awareness of salinity problems The volume is supported by UNESCO Doha Qatar and has an international authorship Towards the rational use of high salinity tolerant plants Helmut Lieth, A.A. Al Masoom, 2012-12-06 The Symposium on high salinity tolerant plants held at the University of Al Ain in December 1990 dealt primarily with plants tolerating salinity levels exceeding that of ocean water and which at the same time are promising for utilization in agriculture or forestry These plants could be very useful for a country like the UAE where fresh water resources are very scarce and the groundwater available at some places is already very salty More than 60 million woody trees shrubs have been planted so far and more are planned for the inland plains underlain with brackish groundwater These species were no solution for the widely barren shoreline of the UAE Here mangrove species were of potential use and one species Avicennia Marina occurs widely and has been successfully planted for about a decade Converting the tree plantations into economically useful cropping systems is still a problem requiring much research and development The book deals in several sections with conventional irrigation systems using marginal water The species used in these systems are mostly hybrids of conventional crops The irrigation systems however have similar problems as may be expected for irrigation with seawater Papers show the participants experiments in this area The volume serves as a link between scientists working for the improvement of classical irrigation systems and those interested in the application of a new dimension of salinity levels for irrigation water Integration of Core Sustainable Development Goals in Rural Areas Abdelazim M. Negm, Zeina ElZein, 2024-07-18 This book addresses the application of the water energy and food nexus in the MENA Region It highlights the technologies and solutions to support the sustainable development of rural areas in the region The first part provides an introduction and an overview of water energy food climate change and ecosystem interactions within the framework of sustainable development goals The editors present a brief overview and highlights of the book themes and chapters The second part discusses current State and Security of the WEF Nexus in the MENA Region addresses the role of water energy and food nexus in sustainable development through reviewing case studies in the MENA Region that have followed an integrated nexus approach The third part focuses on the integration within the Nexus for Rural Development includes three chapters It discusses analysis and assessment of the nexus through a quantitative index approach to consider the efficiency and security of resources addresses territorial climate planning in water scarce areas focusing on the Souss Massa Region in Morocco and discusses the Algerian food system and future scenarios through the lens of food and water challenges The fourth part addresses the WEF Nexus and sustainable development solutions and technologies exploration of an adaptation model for food security and water resources water agricultural management practices standardized hydraulic incident index to analyze hydraulic incidents and their impact on energy integrated management of natural resources in Egypt through the WEF nexus approach and ICT tools as a facilitator for collaborative governance of water resources in Mediterranean agriculture The fifth chapter focuses on sediment management in the context of climate change for the Fertile Crescent and Southwest Asia and the Nile River It also addresses haloculture as a climate change adaptation and mitigation solution that supports food security Finally the book presents key updates conclusions and recommendations from the book chapters The book is useful to researchers professionals practitioners post graduates and undergraduates who are interested in the field of sustainable development and water energy and food interaction

Ecophysiology of High Salinity Tolerant Plants M. Ajmal Khan, Darrell J. Weber, 2006-05-16 The halophytes are highly specialized plants which have greater tolerance to salt They can germinate grow and reproduce successfully in saline areas which would cause the death of regular plants Most halophytic species are found in salt marsh systems along seashores or around landlocked inland lakes and flat plains with high evaporation The halophytes play very significant role in the saline areas specially in the coast by overcoming the salinity in different ways viz with regulating mechanisms in which excess salts are excreted and with out regulating mechanism which may include succulents or cumulative types Besides that they protect coast from erosion and cyclones provide feeding ground and nursery for fish shrimps and birds Halophytes get increasing attention today because of the steady increase of the salinity in irrigation systems in the arid and semi arid regions where the increasing population reaches the limits of freshwater availability In many countries halophytes have been successfully grown on saline wasteland to provide animal fodder and have the potential for rehabilitation and even reclamation of these sites The value of certain salt tolerant grass species has been recognized by their incorporation in pasture improvement programs in many salt affected regions throughout the world There have been recent advances in selecting species with high biomass and protein levels in combination with their ability to survive a wide range of environmental conditions including salinity

Engineering Practices for Management of Soil

Salinity S. K. Gupta, Megh R. Goyal, Anshuman Singh, 2018-08-29 Abiotic stresses are known to adversely impact agricultural productivity on millions of hectares globally and it is projected that these problems are likely to increase primarily due to anthropogenic interventions as well as climatic changes Understanding abiotic stresses especially salt stress on soil calls for an interdisciplinary approach because salt stressed soils need hydro technical chemical and agronomic interventions as well as an understanding of plant response when exposed to these stresses This volume explores and conveys the latest information on emerging technologies in the management of abiotic salt stress and their field applications It brings together experts from various fields academia technology and engineering to provide the latest information and knowledge on this important challenge Coastal Ecosystems of the Tropics - Adaptive Management Velmurugan Ayyam, Swarnam Palanivel, Sivaperuman Chandrakasan, 2019-10-11 The coastal areas of the tropics are rich in biodiversity natural resources and place of intensive developmental activities as it provides livelihood to millions of people At the same time evidences suggest that several unique coastal ecosystems viz mangroves wetlands salt marshes corals estuaries sand dunes and agro ecosystem are vulnerable to natural disasters and events associated with global climate change In recent times degradation of land water and genetic erosion besides threat to native flora and fauna have been increasing due to unsustainable developmental activities Therefore a paradigm shift in deriving livelihood through conventional methods developmental strategies conservation practices are required for balanced and sustainable growth of the coastal areas This publication strives to cover the status of different natural resources of the coastal region various aspects of degradation process production need and restorative methods besides new technological options and its socio economic implications with case examples Special focus is given to bring out the scope and potential of mangrove based farming integrated and organic farming and its value addition besides the role of coastal vegetations as bioshield in protecting these regions from sea erosion cyclones and tsunami As the tropical coastal areas are vulnerable to climate change events this book also covers the recent weather pattern impacts of climate change and climate resilient technologies besides intuitional linkages and policy framework aimed at balancing development and environmental concerns Sabkha Ecosystems Münir Öztürk, Benno Böer, Hans-Jörg Barth, Siegm. W. Breckle, Miguel Clüsener-Godt, M. Ajmal Khan, 2010-12-07 This book is part of the Sabkha Ecosystems series The series is designed to provide information on sabkha ecosystems of different regions It will add to the collective knowledge available about saline ecosystems and also focuses on the African region where only limited information is currently available on Developments in Soil Salinity Assessment and Reclamation Shabbir A. Shahid, Mahmoud A. Abdelfattah, Faisal K. Taha, 2013-01-15 The papers assembled here cover topics such as technological advances in soil salinity mapping and monitoring management and reclamation of salt affected soils use of marginal quality water for crop production salt tolerance mechanisms in plants biosaline agriculture and agroforestry microbiological interventions for marginal soils opportunities and challenges in using marginal waters and soil and water management in irrigated agriculture

Embracing the Beat of Appearance: An Mental Symphony within Biosaline Agriculture And High Salinity Tolerance

In a global taken by displays and the ceaseless chatter of instantaneous interaction, the melodic elegance and mental symphony produced by the prepared word frequently fade into the back ground, eclipsed by the persistent sound and disturbances that permeate our lives.
