jun 20 2023 the hard soft acid base principle HSAB principle stems from the recognition that some Lewis acids and bases seem to have a natural affinity for one another consider the following some metals are commonly found in nature as salts of chloride or as oxide ores while others are found in combination with sulfur acids bases and enzymes many acids and bases in living things provide the pH that enzymes need enzymes are biological catalysts that must work effectively for biochemical reactions to occur most enzymes can do their job only at a certain level of acidity cells secrete acids and bases to maintain the proper pH for enzymes to do their work acid base titration difference between acid and base acids and bases definition an acid is any hydrogen containing substance that is capable of donating a proton hydrogen ion to another substance a base is a molecule or ion able to accept a hydrogen ion from an acid acidic substances are usually identified by their sour taste
