Water and Environment in the Selenga-Baikal Basin Daniel Karthe,Sergey Chalov,Nikolay Kasimov,Martin Kappas,2016-03-15 The water resources of the Selenga River Lake Baikal system are essential to the ecosystems and economic development of the surrounding region In this large river and lake basin there are strong contrasts between relatively pristine areas and massive anthropogenic impacts on the environment The effects of climate change are more pronounced than in most other parts of the earth and the transition from socialism into a market oriented economy has led to a boom in mining but also to a partial collapse of environmental monitoring and urban wastewater management systems Moreover the expansion of agriculture and mining has triggered considerable land use change rising water consumption and the release of contaminants that had previously been unknown to the region The consequences for the water resources and the aquatic and terrestrial ecosystems depending on them have become increasingly visible in recent years This book which is based on contributions to the 2014 Bringing Together Selenga Baikal Research Conference provides multidisciplinary insight into current water related challenges and strategies for their solution from the viewpoint of the international scientific community

Disaster Risk Reduction in Agriculture Mukhtar

Ahmed, Shakeel Ahmad, 2023-11-02 This book is related to disaster risk reduction in agriculture particularly under changing climate. Climate change refers to significant long term changes in the global climate. There is unequivocal evidence that Earth is warming at an unprecedented rate. Human activity is the principal cause. The planet's average surface temperature has risen to about 1°C since the late 19th century and most of the warming occurred in the past 40 years. The years 2016 and 2020 are tied for the warmest year on the record. Similarly, other evidence of rapid climate change includes warming of oceans, shrinking of ice sheets, retreating glaciers, decreasing snow cover, rising of sea level, declining Arctic sea ice, increased frequency of extreme events, ocean acidification, and loss of biodiversity. Hence, climate change impacts both extreme weather and slow onset events, which have impacted several sectors of the national economies and activities, in particular agriculture and food production, augmented by other challenges, be it geopolitical, cost of finance, or supply chain related, and in a time of increased food insecurity. Without CO₂ fertilization, effective adaptation, and genetic improvement, each degree Celsius increase in global mean temperature would on average reduce global yields of wheat by 6.0%, rice by 3.2%, maize by 7.4%, and soybean by 3.1%. Hence, this book is useful as a study material to teach in the field of agriculture and climate change. The book is useful for instructors and postgraduate as well as undergraduate students involved in the study of climate change. The book also provides guidance to multiple stakeholders to design mitigation and adaptation efforts to climate change and ensure food security in the developing world.

Climate Change-Resilient Agriculture and Agroforestry Paula

Castro, Anabela Marisa Azul, Walter Leal Filho, Ulisses M. Azeiteiro, 2019-01-24 This book collects wide ranging contributions such as case studies, reviews, reports on technological developments, outputs of research studies, and examples of successful projects, presenting current knowledge and raising awareness to help the agriculture and forestry sectors find solutions for mitigating climate variability and adapting to change. It brings the topic of ecosystem services closer to education and learning as targeted by the Framework Convention on Climate Change and the Paris Agreement, the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, and the EU Biodiversity Strategy to 2020. Climate change and its impacts on agriculture and agroforestry have been observed across the world during the last 50 years. Increasing temperatures, droughts, biotic stresses, and the impacts of extreme events have continuously decreased agroforestry systems' resilience to the effects of climate change. As such, there is a need to adapt farming and agroforestry systems so as to make them better able to handle ever changing climate conditions and to preserve habitats and ecosystem services.

Recent Advances in Environmental Science from the Euro-Mediterranean and Surrounding Regions (3rd Edition) Mohamed Ksibi, Abdelazim Negm, Olfa Hentati, Achraf Ghorbal, Arturo Sousa, Jesus Rodrigo-Comino, Sandeep Panda, José Lopes Velho, Ahmed M. El-Kenawy, Nicola Perilli, 2024-05-03 This edited book includes over one hundred and eighty short papers that were presented during the third edition of EMCEI which was held in Sousse, Tunisia, in June 2021. Nowadays, experts as well as most of the general public know that the Mediterranean and surrounding regions are facing environmental degradation that is accelerating at an unprecedented rate.

The main causes are the natural and human induced climate change increasing pollution urban growth and the overexploitation and unsustainable use of resources due to rapid population growth The effects are seen in several indicators such as the warming more frequent extreme events severe droughts water shortages contraction of natural resources changes in land use and landscape deterioration decreasing agricultural yields biodiversity loss deterioration of the ecosystems corrosion of the natural coastal environment sea level rise and ocean acidification In addition to these more recent issues the Mediterranean and surrounding region naturally experience a number of hazards such as floods droughts desertification fires catastrophic forest diebacks earthquakes and volcanic eruptions By presenting a wide range of environmental topics and new findings relevant to a variety of problems in these regions this book appeals to anyone working in the subject area and especially students interested in learning more about new developments in environmental research initiatives in light of the worsening environmental degradation of the Mediterranean and surrounding areas making environmental and resource protection an increasingly important issue that impedes sustainable development and social well being The book addresses emerging environmental issues along with new challenges by focusing on innovative approaches that contribute to achieving a sustainable environment in and around the Mediterranean Sea and by highlighting to decision makers from relevant sectors the environmental considerations that should be integrated into their own activities
