The EdTech Advocate's Guide to Leading Change in Schools Mark Gura, 2018-02-27 New and emerging tech coaches and technology leaders will get guidance in making decisions and taking the right steps to effectively manage change in a shifting education landscape The education field is in the midst of a complete digital transformation Accordingly tech coaches and other school leaders must shift from simply bringing technology into schools to identifying how the various elements of this changing landscape fit together to form an improved version of education These changes affect everyone in the school and as entire school communities are impacted informed individuals who can guide the transformation are needed The problem is that there are not nearly enough certified tech coaches in schools and those who are in place are not always adequately prepared to handle this new mission This book aims to address these issues by offering Advice on planning and guiding change in digital age schools Examples of digital age schools and advice from change agents in the field Activities action plans templates checklists and other planning tools to help tech coaches and other leaders put what they learn into action This book helps tech coaches and school technology leaders embrace their roles and guides them as they make important decisions and take meaningful steps to effectively participate in this education transformation Audience Technology coaches technology directors educators The Dynamics and Mechanism of Human Thermal Adaptation in Building Environment Maohui Luo, 2019-11-06 This book focuses on human adaptive thermal comfort in the building environment and the balance between reducing building air conditioning energy and improving occupants thermal comfort It examines the mechanism of human thermal adaptation using a newly developed adaptive heat balance model and presents pioneering findings based on an online survey real building investigation climate chamber experiments and theoretical models The book investigates three critical issues related to human thermal adaptation i the dynamics of human thermal adaptation in the building environment ii the basic rules and effects of human physiological acclimatization and psychological adaptation and iii a new adaptive heat balance model describing behavioral adjustment physiological acclimatization psychological adaptation and physical improvement effects Providing the basis for establishing a more reasonable adaptive thermal comfort model the book is a valuable reference resource for anyone interested in future building thermal environment evaluation criteria Running Buildings on Natural Energy Sue Roaf, Fergus Nicol, 2018-12-07 New thinking is essential if we are to design and occupy buildings that can keep us safe with unpredictable economies climates energy systems and resource challenges For too long designers have relied on mechanical solutions for heating cooling and ventilating buildings The 21st century dream has to be of a better architecture that enables buildings to be run for as much of a day or year as possible on local clean reliable affordable natural energy Examples are included from different climates where the fundamental building design is right its orientation opening sizes mass and its natural ventilation systems and pathways Many modern buildings are poorly designed for climate as manifested by growing incidences of overheating

experienced indoor explored here The inability of many rating systems to record and improve the climatic design of buildings raises questions about how they deal with issues of basic building performance This books points the way towards how we can understand such problems and move forward from over mechanised poorly designed buildings to a new generation of adaptable buildings designed and refurbished to run largely on natural energy and capable of evolving over time to keep their occupants safe and comfortable even in a warming world The chapters were originally published in Architectural Science Review

Unruly Rhetorics Jonathan Alexander, Susan C. Jarratt, Nancy Welch, 2018-10-26 What forces bring ordinary people together in public to make their voices heard What means do they use to break through impediments to democratic participation Unruly Rhetorics is a collection of essays from scholars in rhetoric communication and writing studies inquiring into conditions for activism political protest and public assembly An introduction drawing on Jacques Rancière and Judith Butler explores the conditions under which civil discourse cannot adequately redress suffering or injustice The essays offer analyses of unruliness in case studies from both twenty first century and historical sites of social justice protest The collection concludes with an afterword highlighting and inviting further exploration of the ethical political and pedagogical questions unruly rhetorics raise Examining multiple modes of expression embodied print digital and sonic Unruly Rhetorics points to the possibility that unruliness more than just one of many rhetorical strategies within political activity is constitutive of the political itself

Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean: Meeting the Challenge for Conserving Earth Ecosystems in the Long Term Monica M. C. Muelbert, 2024-12-24 National and international agencies need assessments of change in ecosystems and their drivers in order to sustain natural systems to maintain the delivery of services and to meet the challenge for conserving Earth ecosystems in the long term In marine systems change may arise directly from human activities e g fisheries indirectly from local or global activities cascading effects through food webs from fisheries or changing environments from climate change and or ocean acidification or from naturally varying processes A particular challenge for managers is to identify how dangerous future climate change will be for ecosystems and their services and whether mitigation or adaptation may be needed in advance in order to achieve the conservation requirements For regions of international attention particularly those that have the attention of many management or policy oriented bodies a standardized process is needed to harmonize the scientific information on the status and trends in ecosystems used by the different bodies That process also needs to ensure the information is available in a timely manner For example assessments of change in habitats species and or food webs in the Southern Ocean are currently compiled separately for at least ten different international organizations or processes A Marine Ecosystem Assessment for the Southern Ocean MEASO aims to harmonize that information for policy makers This assessment began with an international conference in April 2018 <http://www.measo2018.aq> where it was agreed to undertake the first MEASO over 2018-2019 with the view to provide the outcomes to relevant bodies such as the Scientific Committee for the Conservation of Antarctic Marine Living Resources soon after

Cost-Effective Energy Efficient Building Retrofitting F. Pacheco-Torgal, Claes-Göran Granqvist, Bjørn Peter Jelle, Giuseppe Peter Vanoli, Nicola Bianco, Jarek Kurnitski, 2017-01-03 Cost Effective Energy Efficient Building Retrofitting Materials Technologies Optimization and Case Studies provides essential knowledge for civil engineers architects and other professionals working in the field of cost effective energy efficient building retrofitting The building sector is responsible for high energy consumption and its global demand is expected to grow as each day there are approximately 200 000 new

inhabitants on planet Earth The majority of electric energy will continue to be generated from the combustion of fossil fuels releasing not only carbon dioxide but also methane and nitrous oxide Energy efficiency measures are therefore crucial to reduce greenhouse gas emissions of the building sector Energy efficient building retrofitting needs to not only be technically feasible but also economically viable New building materials and advanced technologies already exist but the knowledge to integrate all active components is still scarce and far from being widespread among building industry stakeholders

Emphasizes cost effective methods for the refurbishment of existing buildings presenting state of the art technologies

Includes detailed case studies that explain various methods and Net Zero Energy Explains optimal analysis and prioritization of cost effective strategies Healthy and energy efficient buildings Sunil K. Sansaniwal,Roberto Alonso

González-Lezcano,2023-12-21 This Research Topic on Healthy and Energy Efficient Buildings focuses on the emerging need for sustainable and healthy indoor environments The built environment contributes significantly to energy consumption and environmental degradation leading to adverse effects on human health and well being Therefore this Research Topic aims to bring together cutting edge research that addresses the complex interplay between building energy efficiency and occupant health The scope of the Research Topic covers topics such as energy efficiency indoor environmental quality sustainable energy health and well being building codes and standards energy management and green building practices The ultimate goal of the Research Topic is to promote sustainable building practices and enhance the well being of building occupants while reducing the environmental impact of buildings While energy efficiency has become a top priority in building design there has been less emphasis on creating indoor environments that are conducive to good health To achieve the goal of this Research Topic recent advances in building design construction and operation must be incorporated These include the use of advanced materials and technologies such as smart sensors and automation systems that can monitor and control indoor air quality temperature and lighting levels to create optimal indoor conditions for occupants Additionally the integration of renewable energy sources such as solar and wind power can help reduce the carbon footprint of buildings In order to promote healthy buildings there is a need for more research on the impact of building design and materials on indoor air quality and occupant health This includes exploring the use of natural ventilation and passive cooling strategies as well as the use of low emitting materials and finishes that do not off gas harmful chemicals This Research Topic seeks to address the need for sustainable buildings that prioritize both energy efficiency and occupant health
