Stephen Miller

And David Inshaw Andrew Lambirth:

David Inshaw Andrew Lambirth, 2015 One of the founding members of the Brotherhood of Ruralists David Inshaw is a key figure in 21st century British art This edition contains updated text from the hardback edition The Painting of Stephen Cook Stephen Miller, 2023-07-11 This beautifully illustrated monograph including more than 50 colour plates of the artist's work most of which appear here for the first time is the first critical study of the work of the artist Stephen Cook born 1952 and will serve as both an introduction to and analysis of his output in the context of a tradition of figurative art in post war Britain The scrutiny of the subjects of these paintings point to a representation of a reality outside of the flux of things and of our everyday experience albeit one that is derived from the immediately recognisable natural world This is achieved not only through a method of close observation but through the rigour of the application of that observation Cultural Ecologies of the Land Patrick J. Dillon, 2025-04-15 Cultural Ecologies of the Land is a radical and challenging reassessment of the way we relate to the land and to infrastructure There was a time when the land defined us Now with each passing year we are increasingly detached from it It was once the centre stage of humanity now it is the setting for a technological drama What has happened and why does it matter This book is a multi layered account of people and environment shaping each other through cumulative moment to moment day to day change and a template for thinking about place locality belonging and identity Cultural Ecologies of the Land presents the existential crisis that many believe we now face as a systemic problem arising from social institutions and forms of behaviour that have been marginalised with our dependency on modern infrastructure It explains the part people have played in contributing to the crisis and how regenerating relationships with the land offers a route towards alleviating it This is not only about acknowledging our impact on Earth but also about understanding ourselves in relation to it how we engage with our surroundings make sense of them live and work in them and create narratives that connect and sustain us Echoing Greens Brendan Cooper, 2024-05-30 The importance of cricket to England has been immortalised in the art and literature of a thousand years For countless artists and writers across the centuries the culture and aesthetics of cricket white clad players the crack of bat on ball booming appeals admiring applause figures running up to bowl batsmen leaning waiting swinging the blade have been as essential to the English landscape as the hills and meadows immortalised by Gainsborough Constable and Turner It is a story that is known in part but one that has never been explored in full And it is lined with surprises forgotten tales and unnoticed details ranging from medieval manuscript illustrations through a dazzling variety of visual art poetry fiction and drama to recent portraits of contemporary heroes Echoing Greens is a fascinating and thoughtful exploration of the bond between cricket and the English imagination It unveils that beneath cosy patriotic dreams of English values a much wilder more complex story exists Alongside stories of heroic figures noble values and pastoral idylls the literature and the art of cricket also tell of vice violence and scandal The result is a thrilling investigation into the true story behind these representations of the game and forces us to reconsider the
