Building Up And Tearing Down Reflections On The Age Of Architecture:

Building Up and Tearing Down Paul Goldberger, 2009-10-13 PAUL GOLDBERGER ON THE AGE OF ARCHITECTURE The Guggenheim Museum Bilbao by Frank Gehry the CCTV Headquarters by Rem Koolhaas the Getty Center by Richard Meier the Times Building by Renzo Piano Pulitzer Prize winning critic Paul Goldberger's tenure at The New Yorker has documented a captivating era in the world of architecture one in which larger than life buildings urban schemes historic preservation battles and personalities have commanded an international stage Goldberger's keen observations and sharp wit make him one of the most insightful and passionate architectural voices of our time In this collection of fifty seven essays the critic Tracy Kidder called America's foremost interpreter of public architecture ranges from Havana to Beijing from Chicago to Las Vegas dissecting everything from skyscrapers by Norman Foster and museums by Tadao Ando to airports monuments suburban shopping malls and white brick apartment houses This is a comprehensive account of the best and the worst of the age of architecture On Norman Foster Norman Foster is the Mozart of modernism He is nimble and prolific and his buildings are marked by lightness and grace He works very hard but his designs don't show the effort He brings an air of unnerving aplomb to everything he creates from skyscrapers to airports research laboratories to art galleries chairs to doorknobs His ability to produce surprising work that doesn't feel labored must drive his competitors crazy On the Westin Hotel The forty five story Westin is the most garish tall building that has gone up in New York in as long as I can remember It is fascinating if only because it makes Times Square vulgar in a whole new way extending up into the sky It is not easy these days to go beyond the bounds of taste If the architects the Miami based firm Arquitectonica had been trying to allude to bad taste one could perhaps respect what they came up with But they simply wanted like most architects today to entertain us On Mies van der Rohe Mies's buildings look like the simplest things you could imagine yet they are among the richest works of architecture ever created Modern architecture was supposed to remake the world and Mies was at the center of the revolution but he was also a counterrevolutionary who designed beautiful things His spare minimalist objects are exquisite He is the only modernist who created a language that ranks with the architectural languages of the past and while this has sometimes been troubling for his reputation his architectural forms become more astonishing as time goes on
