Animals, Food, and Tourism Carol Kline, 2018-01-31 Food is routinely given attention in tourism research as a motivator of travel Regardless of whether tourists travel with a primary motivation for experiencing local food eating is required during their trip This book encompasses an interdisciplinary discussion of animals as a source of food within the context of tourism Themes include the raising harvesting and processing of farm animals for food considerations in marketing animals as food and the link between consuming animals and current environmental concerns Ethical issues are addressed in social economic environmental and political terms The chapters are grounded in ethics related theories and frameworks including critical theory ecofeminism gustatory ethics environmental ethics ethics within a political economy context cultural relativism market construction paradigm ethical resistance and the Global Sustainable Tourism Criteria

Several chapters explore contradicting and paradoxical ethical perspectives whether those contradictions exist between government and private sector between tourism and other industries or whether they lie within ourselves Like the authors in Tourism Experiences Animal Consumption Contested Values Morality Ethics the authors in this book wrestle with a range of issues such as animal sentience the environmental consequences of animals as food viewing animals solely as a extractive resource for human will as well as the artificial cultural distortion of animals as food for tourism marketing purposes This book will appeal to tourism academics and graduate students as a reference for their own research or as supplementary material for courses focused on ethics within tourism

Wild Animals and Leisure Neil Carr,Janette Young,2018-03-05 Wild animals form an integral component of the human leisure experience They are a significant part of the leisure industry and are economically valuable entities However as sentient beings animals also have rights and welfare needs and like humans may also have their own leisure desires and requirements This collection provides an in depth analysis of the rights and welfare of humans and wild animals as the two relate to one another within the sphere of leisure studies It examines a wide array of animals such as wolves elephants dolphins and apes in a diverse range of leisure settings in international locations from captive wild animals in zoos hunting swimming with dolphins and animals used as educators and for tourist entertainment This book provides a forum for future considerations of wild animals and leisure and a voice for animal welfarist agendas that seek to improve the conditions under which wild animals interact with and are engaged with by humans
