They are all smiling and looking upwards, with their arms raised and hands clasped in the center, creating a sense of unity and teamwork. The lighting is bright, suggesting a sunny day.

Ralph Ellison and Kenneth Burke at the Roots of the Racial Divide Bryan Crable, 2012 Ralph Ellison and Kenneth Burke focuses on the little known but important friendship between two canonical American writers The story of this fifty year friendship however is more than literary biography Bryan Crable argues that the Burke Ellison relationship can be interpreted as a microcosm of the American racial divide Through examination of published writings and unpublished correspondence he reconstructs the dialogue between Burke and Ellison about race that shaped some of their most important works including Burke s A Rhetoric of Motives and Ellison s Invisible Man In addition the book connects this dialogue to changes in American discourse about race Crable shows that these two men were deeply connected intellectually and personally but the social division between white and black Americans produced hesitation embarrassment mystery and estrangement where Ellison and Burke might otherwise have found unity By using Ellison s nonfiction and Burke s rhetorical theory to articulate a new vocabulary of race the author concludes not with a simplistic healing of the divide but with a challenge to embrace the responsibility inherent to our social order American Literatures Initiative
