Bound Feet & Western Dress Pang-Mei Natasha Chang, 2011-04-27 A harrowing dual memoir that braids the story of a Chinese American woman's search for identity with the dramatic tale of her great aunt who was born at the turn of the century in tradition bound China and went on to become Vice President of China's first women's bank In China a woman is nothing Thus begins the saga of a woman born at the turn of the century to a well to do highly respected Chinese family a woman who continually defied the expectations of her family and the traditions of her culture Growing up in the perilous years between the fall of the last emperor and the Communist Revolution Chang Yu's life is marked by a series of rebellions her refusal as a child to let her mother bind her feet her scandalous divorce and her rise to Vice President of China's first women's bank in her later years In the alternating voices of two generations this literary debut brings together a deeply textured portrait of a woman's life in China with the very American story of Yu's brilliant and assimilated grandniece struggling with her own search for identity and belonging Written in pitch perfect prose and alive with detail Bound Feet and Western Dress is the story of independent women struggling to emerge from centuries of customs and duty

Knowledge, Power, and Networks Cécile Armand, Christian Henriot, Huei-min Sun, 2022-09-12 In the past decades the world has watched the rise of China as an economic and military power and the emergence of Chinese transnational elites What may seem like an entirely new phenomenon marks the revival of a trend initiated at the end of the Qing The redistribution of power wealth and knowledge among the newly formed elites matured during the Republican period This volume demonstrates both the difficulty and the value of re thinking the elites in modern China It establishes that the study of the dynamic tensions within the elite and among elite groups in this epochal era is within reach if we are prepared to embrace forms of historical inquiry that integrate the abundant and even limitless historical resources and to engage with the rich repertoire of digital techniques instruments available and question our previous research paradigms This renewed approach brings historical research closer to an integrative data rich history of modern China

Relative Histories Rocio G. Davis,2022-04-30 Relative Histories focuses on the Asian American memoir that specifically recounts the story of at least three generations of the same family This form of auto biography concentrates as much on other members of one s family as on oneself generally collapses the boundaries conventionally established between biography and autobiography and in many cases as Rocio G Davis proposes for the auto biographies of ethnic writers crosses the frontier into history promoting collective memory Davis centers on how Asian American family memoirs expand the limits and function of life writing by reclaiming history and promoting community cohesion She argues that identity is shaped by not only the stories we have been told but also the stories we tell making these narratives important examples of the ways we remember our family s past and tell our community s story In the context of auto biographical writing or filmmaking that explores specific ethnic experiences of diaspora assimilation and integration this work considers two important aspects These texts re imagine the past by creating a work that exists both in history and as a historical document making the creative process a form of re enactment of the past itself Each chapter centers on a thematic concern germane to the Asian American experience the narrative of twentieth century Asian wars and revolutions which has become the subtext of a significant number of Asian American family memoirs Pang Mei Natasha Chang s Bound Feet and Western Dress May lee and Winberg Chai s The Girl from Purple Mountain K Connie Kang s Home Was The Land of Morning Calm Doung Van Mai Elliott s The Sacred Willow family experiences of travel

British Asian Fiction Neil Murphy, Wai-chew Sim, 2008 In this outstanding collection of essays editors Neil Murphy and Wai-chew Sim seek not so much to demarcate the field of British Asian fiction but to offer due acknowledgment of the artistic merit of the works of selected authors and simultaneously register their cultural significance This volume demonstrates in situ the virtues of commentary that engages in a substantial manner with formal and aesthetic considerations even as it implicates the discourses of alterity that dominate contemporary cultural criticism Additionally the essays delineate the complex subject positions explored by authors and texts and focus on the way writers negotiate the exigencies of their location within and between different social formations If it is the case that British literature can no longer be discussed in monocultural terms because of the impact of the writers under consideration it is also the case that the diverse trans cultural positions they explore are often less specified than proclaimed Addressing difference commensurability and form related notions of truth content these essays enlarge our understanding of the range of British and affiliated identities as well as the cultural contexts from which they arose Working as academics and critics from Singapore a useful vantage point Murphy and Sim have extended the parameters of British Asian to include not just writers from South Asia as is traditionally the case but writers whose parents or who themselves have migrated to Britain from other regions of Asia for example Japan Hong Kong and Malaysia This initiative has made it possible for professors Murphy and Sim to bring together first an interestingly varied group of authors among them those who came to prominence in the 1980s Salman Rushdie Timothy Mo Kazuo Ishiguro as well as their younger contemporaries Meera Syal Romesh Gunasekera Monica Ali Hari Kunzru Ooi Yang May and second a broad and diverse range of novels that span Timothy Mo's Sour Sweet 1982 and Tariq Ali's A Sultan in Palermo 2005 the fourth volume in his Islam quintet
