Present Pasts: Urban Palimpsests and the Politics of Memory (2003)

Introduction: The Crisis of History

HISTORY IN THE PAST	HISTORY IN THE PRESENT
Used to mark the relation of a community or a nation to its past, with stronger boundaries between past and present. Strong temporal boundaries, less historiography sources.	Historiography impinges upon the present through modern media of reproduction, as well as through the explosion of historical scholarship and an ever more voracious museal culture. The past has become part of the present in ways simply unimaginable in earlier centuries. As a result, temporal boundaries have weakened as the experiential dimension of space has shrunk (through advances in transportation).
"Discourse was there to guarantee the relative stability of the past in its pastness. Traditions, even though themselves often invented or constructed and always based on selections and exclusions, gave shape to cultural and social life. Built urban space- replete with monuments and museums, palaces, public spaces, and gov. buildings – represented the material traces of the historical past in the present."
Memory was a topic of poets and their visions. Nineteenth century concern of nation-states: mobilize and monumentalize national and universal pasts so as to legitimize and give meaning to the present and to envision the future: culturally, politically, socially. This model no longer works.	Contemporary society perceives this fundamental disturbance of history itself and its promises. At stake in current history/memory debate is not only a disturbance of our notions of the past, but a fundamental crisis in our imagination of alternative futures. Modernity's price: destruction of past ways of living and being in the world. There was no liberation without active destruction. And the destruction of the past brought forgetting. From the beginning, modernity was two-faced in its negotiations with cultural memory.

Resounding Pasts Drago Momcilovic, 2020-05-15 The field of memory studies has long been preoccupied with the manner in which events from the past are commemorated forgotten re fashioned or worked through on both the individual and collective level Yet in an age when various modes of artistic and cultural commemoration have begun to overlap with and respond to one another the dynamics of cultural remembering and forgetting become bound up in an increasingly elaborate network of representations that operate both within and outside temporal cultural and national borders As publicly circulating texts that straddle the line between cultural artifact and artistic object both musical and literary works both individually and often in conjunction with one another help shape cultural memories and individual experiences of those events Troping their cultural milieux through specific aesthetic and social forms genres and modes of dissemination music and literature become part of a growing global panoply of raw materials upon which we might begin to pose questions regarding the way we remember the consequences of sharing and passing on those memories and the aesthetic and cultural pressures attendant upon the circulation and interpretation of texts that re sound the past

Feminist Time Against Nation Time Victoria Hesford, Lisa Diedrich, 2009-12-01 Feminist Time Against Nation Time offers a series of essays that explore the complex and oftentimes contradictory relationship between feminism and nationalism through a problematization of temporality Although there has been much recent discussion in the U S of the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq and the War on Terror as signaling a new period of permanent war feminist voices have not been at all prominent in this discussion This collection considers not only the ways in which public spaces for dissent are limited but also the ways in which the time for such dissent is cut short Feminist Time Against Nation Time combines philosophical examinations of Women's Time by Julia Kristeva and The Time of Thought by Elizabeth Grosz with essays offering case studies of particular events including Kelly Oliver's essay on the media coverage of the U S wars on terror and in Afghanistan and Iraq and Betty Joseph's on the anti colonial uses of women's time in the creation of nineteenth century Indian nationalism Feminist Time Against Nation Time juxtaposes feminist time against nation time in order to consider temporalities that are at once contrary to but also drawing toward each other Yet Hesford and Diedrich also argue that because as an untimely project feminism necessarily operates in a different temporality from that of the nation againstness is also used to provoke a rupture a momentary opening up of a disjuncture between the two that will allow us to explore the possibilities of creating a space and time for feminists to think against the current of the present moment

Memorials in Berlin and Buenos Aires Brigitte Sion, 2014-12-01 The Memorial to the Murdered Jews in Berlin inaugurated in 2005 and the Monument to the Victims of State Terrorism within the Memory Park Parque de la Memoria in Buenos Aires partially unveiled in 2007 have been controversial from start to finish While these sites differ in many respects Germany and Argentina share a history of dictatorial regimes that murdered civilians on a massive scale The Nazis implemented the genocide of millions of Jews and other minorities during World War II In Argentina the junta led state repression was responsible for the disappearance and subsequent murder of thousands of civilians between 1976 and 1983 Decades later new governments in Germany and Argentina acknowledged the responsibility of their respective states for these mass murders by memorializing the victims with a national monument in the capital city for the first time This study of two memorials develops a model and method for analyzing the memorialization of recent tragedies that share several basic characteristics the state creates a self indicting national memorial to the victims of state sponsored mass murder in the absence of their bodies Analyzed as sites of conflicting performances and as performances themselves these memorials illuminate the ways in which people engage with them and how an architecture of absence triggers embodied memory through somatic experience While death tourism and architourism are a key to their success in attracting visitors they also pose a threat to their commemorative role Besides assessing the success and failure of these memorials Sion explores the ways in which these sites are paradigmatic and offers a model for analyzing a transnational circuit of commemorative practices
