This book describes the key features of high quality care for frail elderly patients in acute hospital settings. With chapters on assessment and the characteristic non specific ways that patients tend to present such as confusion collapse query cause and effect this practical guide is ideal to have on hand. As well as common medical and surgical conditions it also covers medication management elder abuse pressure ulcers and hypothermia including the physiological changes seen in ageing and ways to define frail patients. Tables diagrams and images are ideal for quick reference and key points are summarised throughout the text to aid comprehension providing doctors nurses and therapists with both background and essential information to provide the excellent acute care older people deserve.

Emergency laparoscopic surgery in the elderly and frail patient Ferdinando Agresta, Mauro Podda, Fabio Cesare Campanile, Carlo Bergamini, Gabriele Anania, 2021-08-31 The global population is aging rapidly and as a result emergency abdominal surgery for acute abdomen in the elderly has become a global issue Demographic changes in the population have also altered the profile of emergency abdominal surgery with typical causes of acute abdomen in the elderly including acute cholecystitis incarcerated hernia bowel obstruction and appendicitis In these patients recovery from surgery is often complicated leading to longer hospital stays compared with younger patients Laparoscopy in the emergency setting is well established and offers a number of advantages over open surgical approaches such as reduced postoperative pain length of hospital stay and complication rates While laparoscopic surgery for acute diverticulitis has become more widespread in other conditions like small bowel obstruction and perforated peptic ulcer laparotomy is still used in about 70% of cases Further despite the urgent need for knowledge regarding surgical treatment of acute abdomen in the elderly there is still a lack of evidence in this relevant clinical field This book analyzes the management strategies and critically evaluates the outcomes of laparoscopic emergency surgery for acute abdomen in the elderly according to the principles of evidence based medicine Discussing each topic clearly and promoting the use of emergency laparoscopy in elderly patients the book is intended for young general surgeons and surgeons in training with at least a basic knowledge of surgery for acute abdomen It is also useful as a quick reference tool during on call shifts
