Building Trust Developing The Russian Financial Sector:

Building Trust Michael Joseph Fuchs, 2002-01-01 Russia's economy has come a long way during its first ten years of transition to a market economy. This publication examines the progress made within the Russian financial sector to promote banking reforms in order to build trust in the stability of the marketplace. The problems and potential solutions identified will also be of relevance to the financial sector within other transition economies.

A Guide to the World Bank, 2003 The World Bank Group works in more than 100 developing economies and is one of the world's largest sources of development assistance. In 2002 the institution provided US 19.5 billion in loans to its client countries. This guide reviews the organisation's history, objectives and operations and looks at the five institutions that make up the World Bank Group: the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD), the International Development Association (IDA), the International Finance Corporation (IFC), the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA) and the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID).

Who Pays for Bank Insolvency? D. Mayes, A. Liuksila, 2016-04-30 How to avoid taxpayers paying for bank failures and banking crises. This book provides a proposal and a critique by twelve independent experts. It is addressed particularly to the threat posed in Europe by having large international banks, a history of bailouts and limited means of resolving any future banking crises. It shows how political imperatives and legal constraints currently result in economic losses in many countries round the world.

State-owned Banks in the Transition Khaled Sherif, Michael S. Borish, Alexandra Gross, 2003 State Owned Banks in the Transition: Origins, Evolution and Policy Responses reviews the experience with state banking over the last decade in the transition economies of Europe and Central Asia. State ownership of banking systems has undermined economic reform efforts and has distorted emerging markets. This study compares various approaches to reform and calls attention to the significant costs associated with continued state ownership. It concludes with lessons from experience and recommendations for policymakers on approaches to reducing state ownership of banks in the region. The findings indicate that restructuring of state banks has proven time consuming and costly and governments are better off moving swiftly to privatize or liquidate their remaining state banks rather than attempting to rehabilitate them. This report includes seven case studies of individual state banks that have been reformed or privatized over the past decade. The case studies highlight the challenges of implementing various reform measures and illustrate how such challenges have been addressed in difficult economic and political contexts.

Trust, 2012-03-02 Trust, as Simmel noted, is a hypothesis regarding future behavior that is certain enough to serve as a basis for practical conduct. To trust another person or collectivity or institution is intermediate between knowledge and ignorance. Simmel was one of many social scientists, e.g. Tönnies, Durkheim, Parsons, who have contended that trust is one of the most important integrative forces within society. Modernization and its attendant social isolation in the face of massive global changes underscore the need to reexamine trust in all its multivariate and multidisciplinary character. This anthology presents twelve studies of trust. Some are conceptual, theoretical analyses.

while others use historical data on societies national surveys or cross national comparative studies to test hypotheses

Handbook On Social Stratification In The Bric Countries: Change And Perspective Peilin Li, Mikhail K

Gorshkov, Celi Scalón, K L Sharma, 2013-03-26 Along with the fast growing economy the term BRICs was coined to represent the newly emerging countries Brazil Russia India and China The enhanced economy in these countries has largely improved people's life at the same time it has also strongly influenced the transformation of social structure norms and values However as the world's attention centers on their economic development at the micro level the social changes at the micro level have often been neglected and a specific comparative study of these four countries is even more rare This handbook's contributing authors are leading sociologists in the four countries They fill the gap in existing literature and examine specifically the changes in each society from the perspective of social stratification with topics covering the main social classes the inequality of education and income and the different styles of consumption as well as the class consciousness and values Under every topic it gathers articles from authors of each country Such a comparative study could not only help us achieve a better understanding of the economic growth and social development in these countries but also lead us to unveil the mystery of how these emerging powers with dramatic differences in history geography culture language religion and politics could share a common will and take joint action In general the handbook takes a unique perspective to show readers that it is the profound social structural changes in these countries that determine their future and to a large extent will shape the socio economic landscape of the future world

Creating Social Trust in Post-Socialist Transition J. Kornai, B. Rothstein, S.

Rose-Ackerman, 2004-06-25 Beneficial social and economic exchange relies on a certain level of trust But trust is a delicate matter not least in the former socialist countries where illegitimate behaviour by governments made distrust a habit The chapters in this volume analyze the causes and the effects of the lack of social trust in post socialist countries The contributions originated in the Collegium Budapest project on Honesty and Trust Theory and Experience in the Light of the Post Socialist Transition A second volume entitled Building a Trustworthy State in Post Socialist Transition is being published simultaneously

Privatization in Transition Economies Ira W. Lieberman, Daniel J. Kopf, 2008 Annotation Russian

Federation International Monetary Fund, 2002-04-04 The Selected Issues paper and Statistical Appendix analyzes output developments in the Russian Federation since the 1998 crisis It outlines near term growth prospects for the economy The paper highlights that output growth accelerated in 1999 and the first half of 2000 but has slowed since then The initial output recovery was led by import substitution as a result of the large exchange rate depreciation in 1998 One finding in the context of an overall policy package is that the real exchange rate and oil prices were the main determinants of growth after the 1998 crisis
