Agricultural Extension In Zimbabwe An Introduction:

Agricultural Extension in Zimbabwe Raymond Zvavanyange, 2014-10-06 This book introduces readers to rural advisory services in Zimbabwe. It draws from the operations of government agricultural institutions. Agriculture provides food, employment, source of income and security for rural households who comprise over 70 percent of the Zimbabwean population. Zimbabwe's population is estimated at 14 million people against a background of increasing poverty gaps and food insecurity challenges amongst vulnerable groups such as widows and orphans. Agriculture offers a way out of these challenges. A solution in order to increase agricultural development vis-à-vis extension is to provide rural households with timely and quality advisories so that they make informed decisions. Timely and quality advisories are effective extension tools. Because of limited literature on agriculture extension in Zimbabwe, this book is intended for agriculture students in colleges, schools and tertiary institutions intending and pursuing a career in agricultural extension in Africa. Handbook of

Borowy, 2025-12-01 Histories of environment and histories of technology have moved in exciting interdisciplinary directions in recent years with increasing recognition that both environments and technologies are made and remade gaining meaning only in specific historical settings With historical scholarship weighted towards examples from the North Atlantic world this volume provides a collection of grounded case studies from across the modern world that interrogate the relationship between environment and technology in developmental practices and discourses Development projects have often involved assumptions that humans can create and wield technology to harness improve or protect the non human environment This volume will not simply discredit these assumptions by revealing their nefarious effects on our society and planet but instead historicise them by locating them within specific power structures and epistemologies The connections and conversations between dispersed cases raised here point us to more nuanced conclusions about the causes and effects the objects and subjects of history in this dynamic interaction between environment technology and development Community

Development Practice in Africa Charles Gyan, Linda Kreitzer, Somnoma Valerie Ouedraogo, 2024-08-01 This project seeks to enhance both the theoretical and practical understanding of community development by adopting an African perspective Recognizing that the majority of community development literature utilized in African academic settings predominantly focuses on practices from the Global North this edited volume addresses a critical gap It develops compiles and promotes scholarship that is transnational yet reflective of the unique realities present within the African context This edited volume expands the global discourse on community development by delving into the particular forms it takes within African settings It will explore how local practices influence existing theories and models of community development and examine the integration of these theories into practical applications within African communities The motivating goal of this edited book is to provide a space to examine the specific contextual factors that impact the history theory and practice of community development in Africa Community development should reflect the local context in which it is practiced The contributions included in this edited book will provide a valuable resource for professors researchers and practitioners presenting a range of historically culturally and socially situated critical perspectives In summary this collection seeks to highlight African context specific literature in the field of community development The Zimbabwe Rhodesia Science News, 1980 AIDS and Rural Livelihoods Anke Niehof, Gabriel Rugalema, 2019-01-15 AIDS epidemics continue to threaten the livelihoods of millions of people in sub Saharan Africa Three decades after the disease was first recognized the annual death toll from AIDS exceeds that from wars famine and floods combined Yet despite millions of dollars of aid and research there has previously been little detailed on the ground analysis of the multifaceted impacts on rural people Filling that gap this book brings together recent evidence of AIDS impacts on rural households livelihoods and agricultural practice in sub Saharan Africa

There is particular emphasis on the role of women in affected households and on the situation of children. The book is unique in presenting micro level information collected by original empirical research in a range of African countries and showing how well grounded conclusions on trends impacts and local responses can be applied to the design of HIV responsive policies and programmes. AIDS impacts are more diverse than we previously thought and local responses more varied sometimes innovative sometimes desperate. The book represents a major contribution to our understanding of the impacts of AIDS in the epidemic's heartland and how these can be managed at different levels.

A Decade of Zimbabwe Amin Kamete, 2019-05-27 This ten year review covers a difficult but exciting period in Zimbabwe. It starts when the so called Zimbabwe Crisis was full blown and the country was experiencing political economic and social turmoil characterized by hyperinflation de industrialization polarization and persistent repression. The review captures the fast moving events in the three major institutions in Zimbabwe the state the ruling party and the main opposition. It also captures the goings on in national governance from ruling party dominance to a Government of National Unity in 2008 and back to ruling party dominance in contested elections in 2013. In this period the country saw a change from the Mugabe years to his ouster in a so called soft coup and a change in leadership in 2017.
