Rise and Fall Paul Strathern, 2019-08-29 Rise and Fall opens with the Akkadian Empire which ruled over a vast expanse of the region of ancient Mesopotamia then turns to the immense Roman Empire where we trace back our western and eastern roots Next Strathern describes how a great deal of western classical culture was developed in the Abbasid and Umayyid Caliphates Then while Europe was beginning to emerge from a period of cultural stagnation it almost fell to a whirlwind invasion from the East at which point we meet the Emperors of the Mongol Empire Combining breathtaking scope with masterful concision Paul Strathern traces connections across four millennia and sheds new light on these major civilizations from the Mongol Empire and the Yuan Dynasty to the Aztec and Ottoman through to the most recent and biggest Empires the British Russo Soviet and American Charting 5 000 years of global history in ten succinct chapters Rise and Fall makes comprehensive and inspiring reading to anyone fascinated by the history of the world

Bulletin - Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Rhode Island ,1894 Annual Report University of Rhode Island. Agricultural Experiment Station,1895 Euclid in China Engelfriet,2021-11-01 As part of the Jesuits programme of introduction to European culture in 1607 the Elements of Euclid 300 BC were translated for the first time into Chinese The translation of this epoch making ancient Greek textbook on deductive geometry meant a confrontation of contemporary Chinese and European cultures Part I of Peter Engelfriet s work deals mainly with the European and Chinese backgrounds part II with linguistic and textual matters In part III the manner in which learned Chinese tried to integrate this new knowledge into their own Chinese mathematical and cultural traditions comes to the fore This fascinating work explores in depth and at various levels the circumstances and mechanisms that shaped the transmission of a key work of science from one language and cultural context onto another Consequently it offers often surprising insights into the ways of intercultural exchange and misunderstandings Twentieth-Century Chinese Translation Theory Leo Tak-hung Chan,2004-05-28 Past attempts at writing a history of Chinese translation theory have been bedeviled by a chronological approach which often forces the writer to provide no more than a list of important theories and theorists over the centuries Or they have stretched out to almost every aspect related to translation in China so that the historical political backdrop that had an influence on translation theorizing turns out to be more important than the theories themselves In the present book the author hopes to devote exclusive attention to the ideas themselves The approach adopted centers around eight key issues that engaged the attention of theorists through the course of the twentieth century in the hope that a historical account will be presented that is not time bound On the basis of 38 articles translated into English by teachers and scholars of translation the author has written four essays discussing the Chinese characteristics of this body of theory Separately they focus on the impressionistic the modern the postcolonial and the poststructuralist approaches deployed by leading Chinese theorists from 1901 to 1998 It is hoped that publication of this book will make possible cross cultural dialogue with translation academics in the West although the general reader will find much firsthand information on Chinese thinking about translation China at War ,1941 Includes selections from the daily bulletins of the China Information Committee Eden and the Fall - the Fallacies of Radical Ecological History ,1999 Radical ecology claims to be a new movement at the cutting edge of social change offering a solution to current social and ecological problems through the rejection of reformist ecological politics in favour of a radical restructuring of industrial and especially Western society The claim to have discovered the historical cause of current ecological and social problems plays a key role in validating this radical approach Although numerous interpretations of the historical origins of existing social and ecological problems exist within radical ecology three main variants have been identified This thesis critically examines the three main variants of radical ecological history the belief in primal harmony the belief in the civilisation of the goddess and its destruction by a Kurgan invasion and the view that the rise of capitalism and the mechanistic world view was responsible for the ecological and social crises of today In so doing it also examines a number of key questions central to radical ecological history when did violence and hierarchy begin in human history is it possible to argue that today's ecological crisis has a religious cause and can the scientific technological and commercial revolutions be truly described as purely Western phenomena The main findings of this thesis are that each of these variants of radical ecological history is chronically flawed In addition to numerous empirical errors each of these historical interpretations is based on an extremely simplistic Eurocentric reading of the past based on the use of archetypal stereotypes of good and evil that have little or no historical foundation While these interpretations of history vary profoundly they are all based on the same underlying model of history whose origins lie in the Judeo Christian apocalyptic tradition and ultimately in Zoroastrianism While some of the flaws of radical ecological history are a result of poor scholarship it is argued that it is the use of t
