Living Books Janneke Adema, 2021-08-31 Reimagining the scholarly book as living and collaborative not as commodified and essentialized but in all its dynamic materiality In this book Janneke Adema proposes that we reimagine the scholarly book as a living and collaborative project not as linear bound and fixed but as fluid remixed and liquid a space for experimentation She presents a series of cutting edge experiments in arts and humanities book publishing showcasing the radical new forms that book based scholarly work might take in the digital age Adema s proposed alternative futures for the scholarly book go beyond such print based assumptions as fixity stability the single author originality and copyright reaching instead for a dynamic and emergent materiality Adema suggests ways to unbind the book describing experiments in scholarly book publishing with new forms of anonymous collaborative authorship radical open access publishing and processual living and remixed publications among other practices She doesn t cast digital as the solution and print as the problem the problem in scholarly publishing she argues is not print itself but the way print has been commodified and essentialized Adema explores alternative more ethical models of authorship constructs an alternative genealogy of openness and examines opportunities for intervention in current cultures of knowledge production Finally asking why it is that we cut and bind our research together at all she examines two book publishing projects that experiment with remix and reuse and try to rethink and reperform the book apparatus by taking responsibility for the cuts they make

Therapeutic Aesthetics Maria Walsh,2020-11-12 Therapeutic Aesthetics focuses on moving image artworks as expressive of social psychopathological symptoms that arise in a climate of neoliberal cognitive capitalism such as anxiety depression post traumatic stress disorder and burnout The book is not about engaging with art as a therapy to express personal traumas and symptoms but proposes that a selective range of contemporary moving image artworks performatively mimic the psychopathologies of cognitive capitalism in a conflictual manner Engaging with a range of philosophers and theorists including Bernard Stiegler Franco Bifo Berardi Judith Butler Félix Guattari and Eva Illouz Maria Walsh proposes that there is no cure only provisional moments of reparation To address this idea she uses the concept of the pharmakon the Greek term for drug which means both remedy and poison Through this approach she maintains the conflict between the curative and the harmful in relation to moving image artworks by artists such as Omer Fast Liz Magic Laser Leigh Ledare Oriana Fox Gillian Wearing and Rehana Zaman As transitional spaces these artworks can enable a toleration of anxiety and conflict that may offer another kind of aesthetic self cultivation than the subjection to biopolitical governance in cognitive capitalism spherical filmmaking to Rebeca M ndez s projection and installation work exploring climate change to the richly mediated interactive live performances of the collective Cloud Eye Control this volume captures a moment of creative evolution and sets the stage for imagining the future of the cinematic arts
