Structures and Infrastructure Systems Dan M. Frangopol, 2019-12-18 Our knowledge to model design analyse maintain manage and predict the life cycle performance of infrastructure systems is continually growing However the complexity of these systems continues to increase and an integrated approach is necessary to understand the effect of technological environmental economic social and political interactions on the life cycle performance of engineering infrastructure In order to accomplish this methods have to be developed to systematically analyse structure and infrastructure systems and models have to be formulated for evaluating and comparing the risks and benefits associated with various alternatives Civil engineers must maximize the life cycle benefits of these systems to serve the needs of our society by selecting the best balance of the safety economy resilience and sustainability requirements despite imperfect information and knowledge Within the context of this book the necessary concepts are introduced and illustrated with applications to civil and marine structures This book is intended for an audience of researchers and practitioners world wide with a background in civil and marine engineering as well as people working in infrastructure maintenance management cost and optimization analysis The chapters originally published as articles in Structure and Infrastructure Engineering

Soil Conservation Service Curve Number (SCS-CN) Methodology S.K. Mishra,V.P. Singh,2013-03-14 The Soil Conservation Service SCS curve number CN method is one of the most popular methods for computing the runoff volume from a rainstorm It is popular because it is simple easy to understand and apply and stable and accounts for most of the runoff producing watershed characteristics such as soil type land use hydrologic condition and antecedent moisture condition The SCS CN method was originally developed for its use on small agricultural watersheds and has since been extended and applied to rural forest and urban watersheds Since the inception of the method it has been applied to a wide range of environments In recent years the method has received much attention in the hydrologic literature The SCS CN method was first published in 1956 in Section 4 of the National Engineering Handbook of Soil Conservation Service now called the Natural Resources Conservation Service U S Department of Agriculture The publication has since been revised several times However the contents of the methodology have been nonetheless more or less the same Being an agency methodology the method has not passed through the process of a peer review and is in general accepted in the form it exists Despite several limitations of the method and even questionable credibility at times it has been in continuous use for the simple reason that it works fairly well at the field level
