Volume 1: Basic Principles Dolores Albarracín, Blair T. Johnson, 2018-10-10 Attitudes are evaluations of people places things and ideas They help us to navigate through a complex world They provide guidance for decisions about which products to buy how to travel to work or where to go on vacation They color our perceptions of others Carefully crafted interventions can change attitudes and behavior Yet attitudes beliefs and behavior are often formed and changed in casual social exchanges The mere perception that other people favor something say rich people may be sufficient to make another person favor it People s own actions also influence their attitudes such that they adjust to be more supportive of the actions People s belief systems even change to align with and support their preferences which at its extreme is a form of denial for which people lack awareness These two volumes provide authoritative critical surveys of theory and research about attitudes beliefs persuasion and behavior from key authors in these areas The first volume covers theoretical notions about attitudes the beliefs and behaviors to which they are linked and the degree to which they are held outside of awareness It also discusses motivational and cultural determinants of attitudes influences of attitudes on behavior and communication and persuasion The second volume covers applications to measurement behavior prediction and interventions in the areas of cancer HIV substance use diet and exercise as well as in politics intergroup relations aggression migrations advertising accounting education and the environment Handbook of Motivation Science James Y. Shah, Wendi L. Gardner, 2013-12-09

Kardes, 2018-12-07 This Handbook contains a unique collection of chapters written by the world's leading researchers in the dynamic field of consumer psychology. Although these researchers are housed in different academic departments in marketing, psychology, advertising, and communications, all have the common goal of attaining a better scientific understanding of cognitive, affective, and behavioral responses to products and services, the marketing of these products and services, and societal and ethical concerns associated with marketing processes. Consumer psychology is a discipline at the interface of marketing, advertising, and psychology. The research in this area focuses on fundamental psychological processes as well as on issues associated with the use of theoretical principles in applied contexts. The Handbook presents state-of-the-art research as well as providing a place for authors to put forward suggestions for future research and practice. The Handbook is most appropriate for graduate-level courses in marketing, psychology, communications, consumer behavior, and advertising.

Public Opinion and Criminal Justice Jane Wood, Theresa A. Gannon, 2013-05-13 Public opinion is vital to the functioning of the criminal justice system but it is not at all clear how best to establish what this is and what views people have on different aspects of criminal justice and the criminal justice system Politicians and the media often assume that the public wants harsher tougher and longer sentences and policies may be shaped accordingly Detailed research and more specific polling often tells a different story This book is concerned to shed further light on the nature of public views on criminal justice paying particular attention to public opinion towards specific types of offenders such as sex offenders and mentally disordered offenders In doing so it challenges many enduring assumptions regarding people's views on justice and confronts the myths that infect our understanding of what people think about the criminal justice system
