Australian Rules Film Study Guide:

Australian Rules, a Film by Paul Goldman Libby Tudball, 2007 Feature Films in English Language Teaching Britta Viebrock, 2016-07-11

Feature Films in English Language Teaching deals with the use of motion pictures in the advanced EFL English as a foreign language classroom. It provides a general introduction to film literacy and explains the rationale, methods and objectives of working with feature films. In addition, the book contains in-depth considerations on sixteen selected films which are grouped regionally: Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, USA, Great Britain. Each chapter describes the topical focus of the film and its central theme and provides background information on social, historical, political and geographical issues. A profound analysis of selected scenes lays the foundation for considerations on the teaching potential of the film. In a download section, the chapters are complemented with ready-to-use teaching materials on film-specific aspects: narrative, dramatic and cinematographic dimensions, which are organised as pre-while-post viewing activities. A glossary on technical terms for film analysis completes the volume.

Pockets of Change Jane Stadler, Peta Mitchell, Adam Atkinson, Tricia Hopton, 2011-04-29. The twelve essays collected in Pockets of Change locate adaptation within a framework of two overlapping if not simultaneous creative processes: on the one hand, adaptation is to be understood as an acknowledged transposition of an existing source; that is, the process of adapting from. On the other hand, adaptation is also a process of purposeful shifting and evolving of creative practices in response to external factors, including but not limited to other creative works. In other words, the process of adapting to. This book explores adaptation then as an active practice of repetition and as a reactive process of development or evolution. The essays also extend beyond the production, transformation and interpretation of texts to interrogate the values and practices at work in cultural transition and transformation during periods of social and historical change. Collectively, the papers theorize adaptation by taking on three tasks: first, to examine the conditions under which the two processes of adaptation operate; second, to give an account of the space and moment in which the processes unfold; the pockets of the title; and finally, to examine what emerges from pockets of adaptation. While adapting from and adapting to are both processes that appear to preclude innovation in the way that they acknowledge and depend on external sources, Pockets of Change demonstrates that adaptation is productive. It not only references prior texts, attitudes, practices and media, but it also invites us to re-visit the past and to re-think the present in new ways, potentially giving narrative space to muted or occluded voices. This book therefore brings together an innovative and varied range of approaches to interpretations and uses of adaptation, challenging the assumption that an adaptation is simply either a re make or the act of turning one medium into another Adaptation then names not only the means by which texts are transformed but also the space in which that transformation takes place T Australian Film Brian Reis,1997 Contains entries many with descriptive annotations on books book chapters periodical articles government reports academic theses films videos and audio recordings published in Australia and elsewhere from 1988 to the early and mid 1990s Works cited embrace all aspects of Australian film considered as art industry and sociological phenomenon except extremely technical aspects of filmmaking Categories include film archives and libraries production super 8mm film government and film history and criticism ethnographic film biographies and film criticism and reviews Includes author book title and film title indices Distributed by Books International Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Australian national bibliography ,1961 A Study Guide for Jonathan Larson's "Rent" (lit-to-film) Gale, Cengage Learning, A Study Guide for Jonathan Larson s Rent lit to film excerpted from Gale s acclaimed Drama for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Drama for Students for all of your research needs Identity and Justice Debbie Rodan,2004 Debbie Rodan adds breadth and depth to the field of literary cultural and gender studies through a meticulous investigation of notions such as re presentation justice and legitimation She examines their historical and philosophical trajectories as well as their politico juridical underpinnings through an ambitious and timely recuperation of the Enlightenment projects of rationality and emancipation The point of departure is a critical engagement with the theoretical work of John Rawls J rgen Habermas and Jean Fran ois Lyotard Rodan claims each can be read as foregrounding diverse ways of constituting identity within the social world Recognition of other people s identity at the social cultural and national level is crucial to the possibility of justice Rodan tests the concepts of justice legitimation and identity through detailed critical readings analyses of a range of texts The range includes the film East is East a number of auto biographical narratives as well as the Australian government report Bringing Them Home which is concerned with the removal of Aboriginal children from their families She avoids polarising Aboriginal non Aboriginal notions of justice identity etc by including texts which raise and problematise questions of ethnicity and gender Resources in Education ,2001 The Essential Guide to Doing Your Research Project Zina O'Leary,2017-03-20 Lecturers request your electronic inspection copy here The ultimate companion to successfully completing your research project the author guides you through a step by step approach to research and provides all of the skills and momentum you need to excel Each stage of a project is clearly set out with best practice highlighted alongside pragmatic advice for tackling research in the real world The Third Edition uses multidisciplinary case studies and examples from the author s own experience to answer your questions and support your progress as you move smoothly through each stage With a new chapter on mixed methods approaches more on disseminating research more on the practical and legal implications of ethics and more international examples the book is packed full of
