Politics as Worship Sumita Pahwa, 2023-11-25 Why do leading Islamist movements like the Egyptian Muslim Brothers embrace electoral politics while insisting that their main goal is working for God and how do they reconcile political with spiritual goals Expectations that tension between political and religious organizing would pull the movement apart were not realized when the Brothers achieved electoral success following Egypt's 2011 uprising Instead movement conservatives rather than moderates came to dominate political work and political activists framed the movement's electoral mandate as both popular and divine arguing that campaigning policy and legislation could all be forms of worship To understand how the movement threaded these disparate missions Sumita Pahwa examines the movement's internal debates on preaching activism and social reform from the 1980s through the 2000s She explains how framing political work as ethical conduct essential for building pious Muslim individuals as well as an Islamic political order became central to the organization's functioning Through a comprehensive analysis of texts speeches public communications interviews and internal training documents Pahwa offers a constructivist argument for how the movement has folded religious ideals into political discourse enabling the leadership to shift the boundaries of justifiable and righteous action Melding these aims the Egyptian Muslim Brotherhood built an influential Islamic political project and a unified identity around working for God

Disloyalty and Destruction Rob Barrett, 2010-04-01 The goal of the work is a heuristic reading strategy for a modern reader to engage with YHWH's threats against Israel in Deuteronomy This goal is accomplished in three steps First the biblical text is considered through close reading to discern the logic of YHWH's threats what motivates the threats what form the threats take and what effect the threats expect to produce Second a modern analogy is sought that most helpfully matches the structure and logic observed in the biblical text A number of common modern analogies for the divine human relationship e.g. parent child master slave husband wife are deemed unhelpful because they cannot support the features of the biblical pattern However the threats of the modern state against those who threaten it are found to bear significant resemblance Finally this analogy is developed for each of several significant passages of Deuteronomy In order to justify and substantiate the analogy this book examines the religious and political background surrounding both Deuteronomy and the modern state through historical reflection Since there are significant differences between the religio political situations sociological perspectives are used to provide patterns that can be applied within both the ancient and modern contexts Finally although the focus of the work is on establishing an analogy between YHWH's threats and those of the modern state the book dedicates one chapter to discussing disanalogous features to avoid overemphasizing the similarity between the two
