body has become an increasingly significant concept in recent years and this Reader offers a stimulating overview of the main topics perspectives and theories surrounding the issue This broad consideration of the body presents an engagement with a range of social concerns from the processes of racialization to the vagaries of fashion and performance art enacted as surgery on the body Individual sections cover issues such as the body and social dis order bodies and identities bodily norms bodies in health and dis ease bodies and technologies Containing an extensive critical introduction contributions from key figures such as Butler Sedgwick Martin Scheper Huges Haraway and Gilroy and a series of introductions summarizing each section this Reader offers students a valuable practical guide and a thorough grounding in the fascinating topic of the body

Postmodernism. What moment? Pelagia Goulimari, 2024-06-04 This collection assembles many of the major theorists of postmodernism across the humanities and the social sciences to reconsider the nature and significance of the postmodern moment as historical phase and as theoretical field The authors look back on their own contributions to the postmodernism debate of the 1980s and 1990s and address the ways in which the contemporary world and their own concerns have developed and the continuing validity or otherwise of postmodern as a master designator of the contemporary Following a substantial introductory survey the 15 compact articles include contributions from Linda Hutcheon Robert Venturi Zygmunt Bauman Douglas Kellner Arthur and Marilouise Kroker Lawrence Grossberg Gianni Vattimo and Ernesto Laclau The collection provides an important testimonial source for researchers interested in contemporary theoretical developments whether in the arts and humanities or the social sciences It will be a useful text for teachers leading classes with a focus on postwar intellectual history and cultural theory

The Emotional Self Deborah Lupton, 1998-04-15 This addition to a growing number of texts which approach emotions and emotionality from a social constructionist perspective is well written scholarly accessible and interesting There is both breadth and depth to this work Feminism and Psychology This broad ranging and accessible book brings together social and cultural theory with original empirical research into the nature of the emotional self in contemporary western societies The emphasis of the analysis is on the emotional self as a dynamic project that is continually shaped and reshaped via discourse embodied sensations memory personal biography and interactions with others and objects Using an interdisciplinary approach Deborah Lupton draws on a number of sociocultural approaches that adopt a post structuralist perspective She strongly emphasizes language and discourse as they construct and express concepts of the self and the emotions whilst also acknowledging the sensual embodied and unconscious dimensions of emotional experience

The Body in Everyday Life Sarah Nettleton, Jonathan Watson, 2002-03-11 Empirical study most studies are theoretical ie no direct competition The book deals with a highly topical subject the sociology of the body and embodiment is an expanding field within the social sciences eg the British Sociology Assoc annual conference 1998 has Making Sense of The Body as it s theme Contributors are leaders in the field especially Emily Martin at Princeton

Food, the Body and the Self Deborah Lupton, 1996-04-25 In this wide ranging and thought provoking analysis of the sociocultural and personal meanings of food and eating Deborah Lupton explores the relationship between food and embodiment the emotions and subjectivity She includes discussion of the intertwining of food meaning and culture in the context of childhood and the family as well as the gendered social construction of foodstuffs food tastes dislikes and preferences the dining out experience spirituality and the civilized body She draws on diverse sources including representations of food and eating in film literature advertising gourmet magazines news reports and public health literature and her own empirical research into people s preferences memories experiences

Emotions in Social Life Gillian Bendelow, Simon J Williams, 2002-09-11 The development of a sociology of emotions is crucial to our understanding of social life as they hold the key to our understanding of social processes and sociological investigation First published in 1997 Emotions in Social Life consolidates the sociology of emotions as a legitimate and viable field of enquiry It provides a comprehensive assessment of the sociology of emotions using work from scholars of international stature as well as newer writers in the field It presents new empirical research in conjunction with innovative and challenging theoretical material and will be essential reading for students of sociology health psychology anthropology and gender studies
