World renowned analytic philosophers John McDowell and Robert Brandom dubbed Pittsburgh Neo Hegelians recently engaged in an intriguing debate about perception In The Intentional Spectrum and Intersubjectivity Michael D Barber is the first to bring phenomenology to bear not just on the perspectives of McDowell or Brandom alone but on their intersection He argues that McDowell accounts better for the intelligibility of empirical content by defending holistically functioning reflectively distinguishable sensory and intellectual intentional structures He reconstructs dimensions implicit in the perception debate favoring Brandom on knowledge s intersubjective features that converge with the ethical characteristics of intersubjectivity Emmanuel Levinas illuminates Phenomenology becomes the third partner in this debate between two analytic philosophers critically mediating their discussion by unfolding the systematic interconnection among perception intersubjectivity metaphilosophy and ethics An Actology of the Given Malcolm Torry, 2023-08-03 An actology introduced by the first book in this series Actology Action Change and Diversity in the Western Philosophical Tradition is a conceptual structure characterized by action change and diversity and that envisages reality as action in changing patterns The previous book in this series Actological Readings in Continental Philosophy reads a number of continental philosophers through this lens This new book An Actology of the Given takes a somewhat different approach it explores the concepts of the gift givenness giving and other cognates in the light of reality understood as action in patterns rather than as beings that change and it does so by discussing some anthropology the writings of a number of continental philosophers biblical texts social policy and a variety of other givens The Essentials of Husserl: Studies in Transcendental Phenomenology V.
