Ancient Religious Wisdom Spirituality And Psychoanalysis:

Ancient Religious Wisdom, Spirituality and Psychoanalysis Paul Marcus, 2003-04-30 This volume presents a rationale for a spiritually animated psychoanalysis Classic world religious literature is analyzed in depth showing how Ecclesiastes St Augustine's Confessions The Koran the Bhagavad Gita and others can enhance psychoanalysis Marcus argues that psychoanalysis is a theory and profession in crisis partly due to its alienation from the spiritual and moral philosophies contained in ancient religious wisdom This volume presents the spiritual as a core dimension of the psyche and the quest for self transcendence meeting the glory of the Infinite as a quest inherent in the human condition Of special interest to those studying psychoanalysis psychology and religious studies this volume may also intrigue those studying the philosophy of religion

Psychoanalysis and Religion in the 21st Century David M. Black, 2012-07-26 What can be gained from a dialogue between psychoanalysis and religion Freud described religion as the universal obsessional neurosis and uncompromisingly rejected it in favour of science Ever since there has been the assumption that psychoanalysts are hostile to religion Yet from the beginning individual analysts have questioned Freud's blanket rejection of religion In this book David Black brings together contributors from a wide range of schools and movements to discuss the issues They bring a fresh perspective to the subject of religion and psychoanalysis answering vital questions such as How do religious stories carry or distort psychological truth How do religions work psychologically What is the nature of religious experience Are there parallels between psychoanalysis and particular religious traditions Psychoanalysis and Religion in the 21st Century will be of great interest to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic therapists psychodynamic counsellors and anyone interested in the issues surrounding psychoanalysis religion theology and spirituality

Psychoanalysis as a Spiritual Discipline Paul Marcus, 2021-04-26 The great existential psychiatrist Ludwig Binswanger famously pointed out to Freud that therapeutic failure could only be understood as the result of something which could be called a deficiency of spirit Binswanger was surprised when Freud agreed asserting Yes spirit is everything However spirit and the spiritual realm have largely been dropped from mainstream psychoanalytic theory and practice This book seeks to help revitalize a culturally aging psychoanalysis that is in conceptual and clinical disarray in the marketplace of ideas and is viewed as a theory in crisis no longer regarded as the primary therapy for those who are suffering The author argues that psychoanalysis and psychoanalytic psychotherapy can be reinvigorated as a discipline if it is animated by the powerfully evocative spiritual moral and ethical insights of two dialogical personalist religious philosophers Martin Buber a Jew and Gabriel Marcel a Catholic who both initiated a Copernican revolution in human thought In chapters that focus on love work faith suffering and clinical practice Paul Marcus shows how the spiritual optic of Buber and Marcel can help revive and refresh psychoanalysis and bring it back into the light by communicating its inherent vitality power and relevance to the mental health community and to those who seek psychoanalytic treatment

Towards Cultural Psychology of Religion Jacob A. v. van Belzen, 2010-08-03

The aims pursued in this book are quite modest The text is not an introduction in the traditional sense to any psychological subdiscipline or field of application nor does it present anything essentially new Rather it shows work in progress as it attempts to contribute to an integration of two differently structured but already existing fields within psychology In order to explain this it is probably best to say a few words about how the book came into being and about what it hopes to achieve As a project the volume owes very much to others While lecturing in places ranging from South Africa to Canada and from California through European countries to Korea colleagues have often urged me to come up with a volume on cultural psychology of religion For reasons that should become clear in the text I feel uncomfortable with such a demand To my understanding there exists no single cultural psychology of religion Rather there are ever expanding numbers of divergent types of psychologies some of which are applied to understanding religious aspects of human lives or to researching specific religious phenomena while others are not Within this heterogeneous field that is correctly or not still designated as psychology there are also many approaches that are sometimes referred to as cultural psychology or as culturally sensitive psychologies It would be worthwhile applying many of these to research on religious phenomena but at present not too many are in fact so applied Islamic Counselling G. Hussein Rassool, 2015-07-16 Islamic counselling is a form of counselling which incorporates spirituality into the therapeutic process. Until now there has been little material available on the subject with no one agreed definition of Islamic counselling and what it involves. There has also been a rapidly growing population of Muslims in Western societies with a corresponding rise in need of psychological and counselling services. Islamic Counselling: An Introduction to theory and practice presents a basic understanding of Islamic counselling for counsellors and Islamic counsellors and provides an understanding of counselling approaches congruent with Islamic beliefs and practices from a faith-based perspective. The book is designed as an introduction for counsellors; its goal is to inform the reader about how the diverse roles of the Islamic counsellor fit together in a comprehensive way and to provide the guidelines that can be potentially integrated into a theoretical framework for use. The book is divided into two parts: Section one: Context and Background and Section two: Assessment Models and Intervention Strategies. Islamic Counselling encompasses both current theory, research and an awareness of the practice implications in delivering appropriate and effective counselling interventions with Muslim clients. It will be essential reading for both professionals and students alike.

The Good Life Jeffrey B. Rubin, 2012-02-01 Psychoanalysts have traditionally been expert at uncovering what afflicts and damages people, argues Jeffrey B. Rubin, but by focusing on narcissism and perversions, depression and sadism, psychoanalysis has all too often disregarded what nourishes and sustains us. In The Good Life, he demonstrates how psychoanalysis can make a profound contribution to the well-lived life by drawing on a neglected but potent aspect of psychoanalysis: its capacity to illuminate a psychology of health as well as illness. Rubin shows that at its best, psychoanalysis can highlight both the ingredients of love, ethics, creativity and spirituality as well as the obstacles to experiencing them. Exploring the good life from this dual perspective provides an indispensable resource for helping us live with greater meaning and vitality.

Intimating the Sacred Andrew Hock Soon Ng, 2011-10-01 Religion has featured in Anglophone literature in Malaysia from colonial times to the present. In Intimating the Sacred, Andrew Hock Soon Ng considers the practice of everyday religiosity as represented in literature, which is often starkly opposed to the impression created by religious rhetoric promoted by the government. The book's examination of intersections between postmodernity and religion highlights links between religion and other facets of colonial and postcolonial identity such as class, gender and sexuality. It will appeal not only to scholars and specialists but also to anyone who enjoys modern Southeast Asian literature. Andrew Hock Soon Ng is senior lecturer in literary studies at Monash University Sunway Campus Malaysia He is the author of Dimensions of Monstrosity in Contemporary Narratives and Interrogating Interstices In Intimating the Sacred Andrew Hock Soon Ng confirms his status as one of the most important new voices in Malaysian literary studies moving beyond national and postcolonial frameworks to a more subtle plotting of the psychic contours of Malaysian modernity Philip Holden National University of Singapore In Malaysia the relationships between various religions the state ideology and the multicultural composition of the populace are fraught with tension Ng's book with critical insights derived from a balanced treatment of texts and theory deals with these issues in a robust and uncompromising manner This is a welcome contribution to Southeast Asian literary studies Eddie Tay author of Colony Nation and Globalisation This refreshing approach to Malaysian canonical texts combines diverse literary theories and religion Courageous and convincing it engages post colonialism feminism and theories of religion with a sophisticated focus on texts Gaik Cheng Khoo Australian National University
