Arabic Perfume Instrument:

Arab Social Life in the Middle Ages Shirley Guthrie, 2013-08-01 This vivid portrait of everyday life in the medieval Arab world draws on thirteenth century miniatures from collections as far afield as St Petersburg and Istanbul The wide range of topi covers every aspect of society in the Abbasid period from life at court to the pomp and ceremony of the military from the dispensing of justice to the bustle of the suq and slave market The routine of village life is contrasted with the pleasures of urban society and we are also introduced to the world of musicians and professional mourners Women are shown not only as virtuous wives and in childbirth but as spirited and articulate individuals The traditions of Arab hospitality are described with scenes of drinking feasting and etiquette The author has illustrated her study with contemporary miniatures principally those of al Wasiti which accompany the celebrated Maqamat of al Hariri In his text al Hariri made no attempt to conceal his admiration for his unprincipled and thoroughly disreputable protagonist Abu Zayd who represents the voice of the common man and possibly provides a prototype for the popular picaresque heroes of later European literature Al Hariri frequently used the tales as a subtle and indirect way of satirizing the prevailing social order yet he was insistent that his work had an underlying moral purpose Guthrie's work is scholarly and her book is a mine of information on both basic and recondite features of Islamic society Robert Irwin Times Literary Supplement Very lively and informative on a wide range of topi in medieval Islamic history The book is eminently accessible to students and non specialists and is certainly one that merits close attention Medical History An essential read for Arabs and non Arabs alike al Hayat Encyclopedia of

Groom, 2012-12-06 In 1948 I was posted as a Political Officer to a remote part of south west Arabia on the edge of the great desert called the Empty Quarter In valleys made fertile by seasonal flood waters lay the remains of an ancient civilization I found inscriptions and the ruin sites of towns palaces and temples Almost buried under the sand dunes were the tumbled walls of a great city From here two thousand years before huge camel caravans had trudged their way along 1600 miles of burning sand and rocks to Petra and Gaza burdened with a most precious cargo frankincense myrrh and other perfume materials for the courts temples and perfume shops of Rome My book Frankincense and Myrrh delved into the details of this romantic trade and led to a broader interest in the perfumes of ancient times Then researching on behalf of a perfume house into the Arab contribution to perfumery I came across the collection of perfume recipes assembled by the Arab philosopher scientist Yaqub al Kindi which have never been translated into English some which I have translated myself are now included in an appendix to this book I realized that in that work I had found key evidence to demonstrate how the medieval Arab perfume makers had been the bridge in perfume history between ancient and modern times Perfumery could now be seen as an art with a continuous history of development since the dawn of civilization

Mandaville, 2011-06-15 A Bedouin asking a fellow tribesman about grazing conditions in other parts of the country says first simply Fih hayah or Is there life A desert Arab's knowledge of the sparse vegetation is tied directly to his life and livelihood Bedouin Ethnobotany offers the first detailed study of plant uses among the Najdi Arabic speaking tribal peoples of eastern Saudi Arabia It also makes a major contribution to the larger project of ethnobotany by describing aspects of a nomadic peoples conceptual relationships with the plants of their homeland The modern theoretical basis for studies of the folk classification and nomenclature of plants was developed from accounts of peoples who were small scale agriculturists and to a lesser extent hunter gatherers This book fills a major gap by extending such study into the world of the nomadic pastoralist and exploring the extent to which these patterns are valid for another major subsistence type James P Mandaville an Arabic speaker who lived in Saudi Arabia for many years focuses first on the role of plants in Bedouin life explaining their uses for livestock forage firewood medicinals food and dyestuffs and examining other practical purposes He then explicates the conceptual and linguistic aspects of his subject applying the theory developed by Brent Berlin and others to a previously unstudied population Mandaville also looks at the long history of Bedouin plant nomenclature finding that very little has changed among the names and classifications in nearly eleven centuries This volume includes a CD ROM featuring more than 340 color images of the people the terrain and nearly all of the plants mentioned in the text as well as an audio file of a traditional Bedouin song and its translation and analysis An essential volume for anyone interested in the interaction between human culture and plant life Bedouin Ethnobotany will stand as a definitive source for years to come
