

The background of the cover is a detailed mural painting in earthy tones of ochre, brown, and black. It depicts several figures in traditional Pre-Columbian attire. On the left, a figure with a large feathered headdress and a long, patterned tunic is shown in profile. In the center, a figure is bent over, possibly working on a large object. On the right, another figure with a feathered headdress is shown holding a long staff or pole. The top of the image features a decorative frieze with stylized circular and geometric motifs.

Proceedings of the First International Conference on Ancient Egyptian Mining & Metallurgy and Conservation of Metallic Artifacts, 1996 Prehistoric Ukraine Malcolm C. Lillie, Inna D. Potekhina, 2020-09-30 This volume covers the Prehistory of Ukraine from the Lower Palaeolithic through to the end of the Neolithic periods This is the first comprehensive synthesis of Ukrainian Prehistory from earliest times through until the Neolithic Period undertaken by researchers who are currently investigating the Prehistory of Ukraine At present there are no other English language books on this subject that provide a current synthesis for these periods The chapters in this volume provide up to date overviews of all aspects of prehistoric culture development in Ukraine and present details of the key sites and finds for the periods studied The book includes the most recent research from all areas of prehistory up to the Neolithic period and in addition areas such as recent radiocarbon dating and its implications for culture chronology are considered as is a consideration of aDNA and the new insights into culture history this area of research affords alongside recent macrofossil studies of plant use and anthropological and stable isotope studies of diet which all combine to allow greater insights into the nature of human subsistence and cultural developments across the Palaeolithic to Neolithic periods in Ukraine It is anticipated that this book will be an invaluable resource for students of prehistory throughout Europe in providing an English language text that is written by researchers who are active in their respective fields and who possess an intimate knowledge of Ukrainian prehistory

Gold and Power in Ancient Costa Rica, Panama, and Colombia Jeffrey Quilter, John W. Hoopes, 2003 The lands between Mesoamerica and the Central Andes are famed for the rich diversity of ancient cultures that inhabited them Throughout this vast region from about AD 700 until the sixteenth century Spanish invasion a rich and varied tradition of goldworking was practiced The amount of gold produced and worn by native inhabitants was so great that Columbus dubbed the last New World shores he sailed as Costa Rica the Rich Coast Despite the long recognized importance of the region in its contribution to Pre Columbian culture very few books are readily available especially in English on these lands of gold Gold and Power in Ancient Costa Rica Panama and Colombia now fills that gap with eleven articles by leading scholars in the field Issues of culture change the nature of chiefdom societies long distance trade and transport ideologies of value and the technologies of goldworking are covered in these essays as are the role of metals as expressions and materializations of spiritual political and economic power These topics are accompanied by new information on the role of stone statuary and lapidary work craft and trade specialization and many more topics including a reevaluation of the concept of the Intermediate Area Collectively the volume provides a new perspective on the prehistory of these lands and includes articles by Latin American scholars whose writings have rarely been published in English
