The Long Millennium Mark Jarzombek, 2023-12-01 This book argues that long distance trade in luxury items such as diamonds gold cinnamon scented woods ivory and pearls all of which require little overhead in their acquisition and were relatively easy to transport played a foundational role in the creation of what we would call global trade in the first millennium CE The book coins the term dark matter economy to better describe this complex though mostly invisible relationship to normative realities The first full integration of dark matter economy with the emerging global flows took place in South India and Sri Lanka at the beginning of the millennium The book

then moves to other places in the world sweet spots where a particular type of affluence was generated through the trade in luxury goods This upstream affluence manifested itself in the creation of shrines palaces temples and engineering works that all thickened the landscape of memory control and extraction and also served as a defense mechanism against intrusions from afar The book also explains the collapse of dark matter economy as a result of the cumulative energies of colonialism modernization and nationalism that make it hard for us today to come to terms with this history The Long Millennium will appeal to students and scholars alike studying the trade networks and economics of the early Middle Ages as well as anyone interested in the effect of trade on medieval society in the first millennium CE Homing the Machine in Architecture Galo Canizares,Zach Cohen,2024-03-11

Homing the Machine in Architecture is a series of conversations on the ways designers practitioners historians and theorists orient themselves within the world of architectural digital fabrication To home a digital fabrication machine is to send it back to its origin point a point that can be specified by the fabricator in advance of the fabrication process or by the defaults that are pre programmed into the machine The homing process is necessary and productive since it determines the physical point at which the machine and the maker begin making every time that architectural designers begin to digitally fabricate something new they first need to home the machine This book gathers first and second hand accounts of the origins of individual digi fab practices from the emergence of advanced prototyping tools to the contemporary moment It features interviews essays and case studies organized around three questions What are the possible histories of digital fabrication in architecture How do designers orient themselves in this emergent discipline What conceptual original points do architectural designers return to when they home their machines The discourse that emerges from this collection aims to reach practicing architects using digital fabrication as well as upper level students and academics of digital architecture architectural theory and architectural history Nature of Computation and

Communication Phan Cong Vinh,Leonard Barolli,2016-10-25 This book constitutes the post conference proceedings of the Second International Conference on Nature of Computation and Communication ICTCC 2016 held in March 2016 in Rach Gia Vietnam The 36 revised full papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from over 100 submissions The papers cover formal methods for self adaptive systems and discuss natural approaches and techniques for computation and communication

Cities of Change - Addis Ababa Marc Angéilil,Dirk Hebel,2016-05-24 Addis Ababa is one of the fastest transforming environments on the globe and a prototype of an emerging territory What can architecture and urban design as disciplines contribute to such transformation According to which criteria can processes of the kind encountered in Addis Ababa be evaluated And how can all of this be steered Aiming to identify sustainable strategies rather than upholding an a priori vision of an ideal city the publication acknowledges the heterogeneous conditions of urban territories The book highlights questions of method and procedure that can be transferred to other cities of change This revised edition covers recent developments such as the increasing influence of China in African countries or the chances of high density low rise
