

The background is a complex architectural collage. It features a top section with a grid of building footprints in shades of grey and tan. Below this is a horizontal band with vertical lines and a faint sketch of a building. The bottom half of the image is dominated by a large, detailed architectural drawing of a building's structural frame, showing numerous columns and beams. Overlaid on this is a faint, sketchy map of a city area with various colored regions (orange, green, grey) and lines.

Sayable Space. Narrative Practices in Architecture Giovanni Corbellini, 2021-11-18 When a work reaches its maximum intensity wrote Le Corbusier a phenomenon of ineffable space occurs The ultimate quality of architecture would reside therefore in the resistance to its description However to tell us this and much more the Swiss master has published more than seventy books and his so compelling formula in supporting the ineffable also shows how words are able to grasp it This brief essay investigates the multiple intersections between discourse and design the way buildings try to talk with their own specific means how architects are trying to remain relevant without building the paradoxes of architecture description after its completion the modes of communication during the project processes the capacity of narrative to act before the project operations start and
