Archives of the Insensible Allen Feldman, 2015-12-08 In Archives of the Insensible anthropologist Allen Feldman presents a genealogical critique of the sensibilities and insensibilities of contemporary warfare Feldman subjects the law to a strip search interrogating diverse trials and revealing the intersecting forms of bodily and psychic subjugation that they display Throughout ethnographic specificities are treated philosophically and political philosophy is treated ethnographically through deconstructive description Among the cases he examines are the interrogation of Ashraf Salim at the Combatant Status Review Tribunal at Guantanamo the kangaroo court of American soldiers who murdered Gul Mudin an Afghani noncombatant Gerhard Richter's forensic paintings of the disputable suicides of a Red Brigade cell in Stammheim prison Radovan Karadzic's forensic allegations against the corpses attributed to his shelling of a market in Sarajevo the trial of the police officers who beat Rodney G King and the latter's judicial lynching by video montage Jean Luc Godard's film class at Sarajevo where visual facts are indicted for no longer speaking for themselves and Jacques Derrida standing naked before his cat while awaiting apocalyptic judgment Through his analysis of these and several other cases Feldman shows how state power arises ex nihilo in the chasm between violent events themselves and the space where political meaning is made He aims to reverse sovereign logic the whole task of which is to transform what Foucault called the enigmatic dispersion of human events into certified facts on which state violence is grounded In contrast Feldman relies on the disorientation that arises from micrological description as theory in an attempt to retard the hyperaccelerated time of war and media

Over and Over and Over Again Cristina Baldacci, Clio Nicastro, Arianna Sforzini, 2022-01-04 Over the last twenty years reenactment has been appropriated by both contemporary artistic production and art theoretical discourse becoming a distinctive strategy to engage with history and memory As a critical act of repetition which is never neutral in reactualizing the past it has established unconventional modes of historicization and narration Collecting work by artists scholars curators and museum administrators the volume investigates reenactment s potential for a re activation of layered temporal experiences and its value as an ongoing interpretative and political gesture performed in the present with an eye to the future Its contributions discuss the mobilization of archives in the struggle for inclusiveness and cultural revisionism the role of the body in the presentification and rehabilitation of past events and impermanent objects the question of authenticity and originality in artistic practice art history as well as in museum collections and conservation practices

Building Socialism Christina Schwenkel, 2020-09-21 Following a decade of U S bombing campaigns that obliterated northern Vietnam East Germany helped Vietnam rebuild in an act of socialist solidarity In Building Socialism Christina Schwenkel examines the utopian visions of an expert group of Vietnamese and East German urban planners who sought to transform the devastated industrial town of Vinh into a model socialist city Drawing on archival and ethnographic research in Vietnam and Germany with architects engineers construction workers and tenants in Vinh s mass housing complex Schwenkel explores the material and affective dimensions of urban possibility and the quick fall of Vinh's new built environment into unplanned obsolescence. She analyzes the tensions between aspirational infrastructure and postwar uncertainty to show how design models and practices that circulated between the socialist North and the decolonizing South underwent significant modification to accommodate alternative cultural logics and ideas about urban futurity. By documenting the building of Vietnam's first planned city and its aftermath of decay and repurposing, Schwenkel argues that underlying the ambivalent and often unpredictable responses to modernist architectural forms were anxieties about modernity and the future of socialism itself.

Between Reality and Documentary Shahd Abusalama, 2025-01-23. This book investigates representations of Palestinian refugees in Gaza in colonial humanitarian and Palestinian documentary films spanning until the 1993 Oslo Agreement. Chapters examine various film sources throughout this period including British Path newsreels, Quaker and UNRWA documentaries, and Palestinian opposition cinema. British Path is considered as a window into the wider colonial depiction of indigenous Palestinians in the British Mandate period; newsreels are examined as representations of the plight of Palestinian refugees in Gaza after Israel's proclamation, and Gaza-focused humanitarian documentaries shot by the Quakers and UNRWA are compared. The final chapters trace the evolution of oppositional documentary filmmaking from the cinema of revolution (1968-1982) to the peace deal of 1993. Through a close audio-visual and textual analysis rooted in a historical contextual approach, Shahd Abusalama explores the techniques used to project emancipatory representations while highlighting shifts and variations in the imagery around Gaza refugees. In exploring the historical ideologically fuelled representations of Gaza and its refugees in colonial and humanitarian films and the opposition to it, this book reaffirms the continuity of Palestinian resistance, refugees call for return, and the importance of Gaza itself to the Palestinian struggle.
