Women, Art and the Politics of Identity in Eighteenth-Century Europe Melissa Hyde,Jennifer Milam,2017-03-02 The eighteenth century is recognized as a complex period of dramatic epistemic shifts that would have profound effects on the modern world Paradoxically the art of the era continues to be a relatively neglected field within art history While women

s private lives their involvement with cultural production the project of Enlightenment and the public sphere have been the subjects of ground breaking historical and literary studies in recent decades women s engagement with the arts remains one of the richest and most under explored areas for scholarly investigation This collection of new essays by specialist authors addresses women s activities as patrons and as patronized artists over the course of the century It provides a much needed examination with admirable breadth and variety of women s artistic production and patronage during the eighteenth century By opening up the specific problems and conflicts inherent in women s artistic involvements from the perspective of what was at stake for the eighteenth century women themselves it also acts as a corrective to the generalizing and stereotyping about the prominence of those women which is too often present in current day literature Some essays are concerned with how women s involvement in the arts allowed them to fashion identities for themselves whether national political religious intellectual artistic or gender based and how such self fashioning in turn enabled them to negotiate or intervene in the public domains of culture and politics where The Woman Question was so hotly debated Other essays examine how men s patronage of women also served as a vehicle for self fashioning for both artist and sponsor Artists and patrons discussed include Carriera Queen Lovisa Ulrike and Chardin the Bourbon Princesses Mlle Clermont Mme Ad la de and Nattier the Duchess of Osuna and Goya Marie Antoinette and Vig e Lebrun Labille Guiard Queen Carolina of Naples Prince Stanislaus Poniatowski of Poland and Kauffman David and his students Mesdames Benoist Lavoisier and Mongez Eighteenth-century French Drawings in New York Collections Perrin Stein, Mary Taverer Holmes, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1999
