Art And Soul Signposts For Christians In The Arts:

Art & Soul Hilary Brand, Adrienne Chaplin, 2001-11-27 This practical guide encourages artists and those interested in the arts to develop a Christian worldview from which they can approach their crafts Art and Soul Hilary Brand, Hilary H. Brandt, Adrienne Chaplin, 1998-12 This practical guide encourages artists and those interested in the arts to develop a Christian worldview from which they can approach art The authors explore the conflicting influences on Christians entering the arts the relation of the major biblical themes of Creation Fall and Redemption to the business of making art and the exact nature and purpose of the arts and the way we experience and interpret them Finally readers are given practical guidelines on practising and developing their art ThirdWay, 1999-06 Monthly current affairs magazine from a Christian perspective with a focus on politics society economics and culture T&T Clark Handbook of Theology and the Arts Stephen M. Garrett, Imogen Adkins, 2025-04-24 This volume presents the theology arts conversation from a distinctly Christian perspective as a witness of the Gospel of Christ to the world A widespread interest in the historical socio cultural and political embeddedness of theology and the arts permeates it This theme of embeddedness tracks through several overarching and interlocking concerns the relationship between form and content in both art and theology the intensification of the metaphysical and the theological contra materialist and positivist reductionisms the expansion of the epistemological possibilities of the theology art conversation and a robust understanding of the world as the theatre of God's glory Several chapters have been co written by theologians and artists as part of demonstrating the kind of conversation that this book commends A thorough going commitment to Scripture is also woven into the many different habits of thought represented in this volume Part I surveys different approaches to the theology arts conversation Part II focuses on how particular art forms bring theological issues to the surface and how theological and denominational traditions shape the making and receiving of the arts Part III delves into key topics in the current theology arts scene and asks how artistic and theological performance can both speak to theological and artistic knowing and help to celebrate and interrogate embodied lived reality A Redemptive Theology of Art David A. Covington, 2018-05-01 A Redemptive Theology of Art develops a biblical systematic and practical theology of aesthetics It begins with the roots and ontology of aesthetics vs art and the architecture and narrative of affection and passion their woes and their glory Those who would search the Bible find little support for art as commonly conceived in the West The language of aesthetics applied to the maker's intentions the qualities of the work and the responses of the audience better addresses the questions of beauty and better suits the discussion of human actions beliefs and culture than the language of art does The Bible yields more consistent and helpful answers to questions about the broader category of aesthetics than it does to questions about art leading in turn to better questions and a more practical and theological appreciation of human affections beauty and delight and the many paths by which people including Christians pursue them Using the categories and definitions from Scripture Covington gives hope and help not only for those who labor in the arts but for everyone who cares about the passions that motivate us We were made for God s delight and though sin and bondage plague our passions God can shape our fun feelings desires affections and aversions Feelings are neither objective nor subjective they are redeemable Borrowing key ideas from other Christian writers on the arts or aesthetics Covington explores the connection between orthodox Protestant theology and a responsible respectful treatment of arts artists and all aesthetic fields of human work and speech "The Eyes of Your Heart" Alison Searle,2009-04-01 This book develops a theory of imagining biblically that explores the contributions scripture can make to a new way of thinking about creativity reading interpretation and criticism The methodology employed in order to demonstrate this thesis consists of a theoretical exploration of current theological understandings of the imagination and their implications within the fields of literary studies The biblical texts locates the function generally defined as imagination in the heart the eyes of your heart Ephesians 1 18 This book assesses what the biblical text as a literary and religious document contributes to the concept of imagination Due to the eclectic nature of the individual books that comprise the scriptural canon the text is considered primarily in terms of its overarching metanarrative language genres and theological propositions Tracing the various trajectories the biblical text opens up and the ways in which they intersect with and modify post Romantic assumptions about the imagination reconfigures traditional definitions of this concept A Calvinistic evangelical hermeneutic is deployed to establish a theoretical concept of what it means to imagine biblically This is further substantiated by a comparative study of authors ranging from the seventeenth to the twentieth centuries John Bunyan Samuel Rutherford Jane Austen Charlotte Bronte and C S Lewis Each author s chapter incorporates a close reading of a key text which concretely examines various trajectories of imagining biblically including creativity faith morals narrative Romanticism and eschatology The conclusion returns to the biblical text and draws these elements together with a definition of the concept of imagining biblically and its implications for literary studies The Bible in Pastoral Practice Paul H. Ballard,Stephen R. Holmes,2006 A New York Review Books Original Whether you call her a coldhearted grifter or the soul of modern capitalism there s no question that Aim e is a killer and a more than professional one Now she s set her eyes on a backwater burg where while posing as an innocent albeit drop dead gorgeous newcomer to town she means to sniff out old grudges and engineer new opportunities deftly playing different people and different interests against each other the better as always to make a killing But then something snaps the master manipulator falls prey to a pure and wayward passion Aim e has become the avenging angel of her own nihilism exacting the destruction of a whole society of destroyers An unholy original Jean Patrick Manchette transformed the modern detective novel into a weapon of gleeful satire and anarchic fun InFatalehe mixes equal measures of farce mayhem and madness to prepare a rare literary cocktail that packs a devastating punch Abundantly More Jeremy S. Begbie,2023-07-25 The Gospel Coalition 2023 Award of Distinction Arts Culture Southwestern Journal of Theology 2023 Book Award Honorable Mention Church Music Worship Christianity and the Arts Late modern culture has been marred by reductionism which shrinks and flattens our vision of ourselves and the world Renowned theologian Jeremy Begbie believes that the arts by their nature push against reductionism helping us understand and experience more deeply the infinite richness of God's love and of the world God has made In Abundantly More Begbie analyzes and critiques reductionism and its effects He shows how the arts can resist reductive impulses by opening us up to an unlimited abundance of meaning And he demonstrates how engaging the arts in light of a trinitarian imagination which itself cuts against reductionism generates a unique way of witnessing to and sharing in the life and purposes of God Theologians artists and any who are interested in how these fields intersect will find rich resources here and discover the crucial role the arts can play in keeping our culture open to the possibility of God

Imaging the Story Karen Case-Green, Gill C. Sakakini, 2017-05-08 Tell all the Truth but tell it slant Emily Dickinson This course follows the contours of the salvation story through the lens of the arts Putting visual art and poetry in conversation with the Bible it seeks to engage the imagination Rather than analyzing the narrative the reader is invited to behold it and respond to it through making either verbally or visually At times the church has treated the imagination like an embarrassing relative Yet the Bible is image rich drawing widely on the imagination and we are each made in the image of the creator God It is time to bring the imagination out of the corner For we are God's handiwork created in Christ Jesus to do good works which God prepared in advance for us to do Eph 2 10 NIV Whether following it as a group or reading it alone this course book will appeal to anyone with an interest in the salvation story and the arts It is particularly for those who feel permission is needed to pick up a paintbrush or any other creative medium just for the love of it
