Artifacts of Loss Jane Elizabeth Dusselier, 2008 From 1942 to 1946 as America prepared for war 120 000 people of Japanese descent were forcibly interned in harsh desert camps across the American west In Artifacts of Loss Jane E Dusselier looks at the lives of these internees through the lens of their art These camp made creations included flowers made with tissue paper and shells wood carvings of pets left behind furniture made from discarded apple crates gardens grown next to their housing anything to help alleviate the visual deprivation and isolation caused by their circumstances Their crafts were also central in sustaining re forming and inspiring new relationships Creating exhibiting consuming living with and thinking about art became embedded in the everyday patterns of camp life and helped provide internees with sustenance for mental emotional and psychic survival Dusselier urges her readers to consider these often overlooked folk crafts as meaningful political statements which are significant as material forms of protest and as representations of loss She concludes briefly with a discussion of other displaced people around the globe today and the ways in which personal and group identity is reflected in similar creative ways

Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism Mark P. Leone, Jocelyn E. Knauf, 2015-05-27 This new edition of Historical Archaeologies of Capitalism shows where the study of capitalism leads archaeologists scholars and activists Essays cover a range of geographic colonial and racist contexts around the Atlantic basin Latin America and the Caribbean North America the North Atlantic Europe and Africa Here historical archaeologists use current capitalist theory to show the results of creating social classes employing racism and beginning and expanding the global processes of resource exploitation Scholars in this volume also do not avoid the present condition of people discussing the lasting effects of capitalism s methods resistance to them their archaeology and their point to us now Chapters interpret capitalism in the past the processes that make capitalist expansion possible and the worldwide sale and reduction of people Authors discuss how to record and interpret these This book continues a global historical archaeology one that is engaged with other disciplines peoples and suppressed political and economic histories Authors in this volume describe how new identities are created reshaped and made to appear natural Chapters in this second edition also continue to address why historical archaeologists study capitalism and the relevance of this work expanding on one of the important contributions of historical archaeologies of capitalism critical archaeology

That Damned Fence Heather Hathaway, 2022 Pt 1 Topaz a literary hotbed After the bombs the experience of Toyo Suyemoto Writing as resistance in Topaz TREK and All Aboard Toshio Mori a literary life derailed Min Okubo an aesthetic life launched Pt 2 Writing elsewhere The Pulse of Amache Granada Dispatches from tumultuous Tule Lake Internment novels Toshio Mori s the Brothers Murata and Hiroshi Nakamura s treadmill Jerome s magnet Humiliation and hope in Rohwer s the Pen

A Materiality of Internment Gilly Carr, 2024-08-07 More than two thousand people from the British Channel Islands were deported to and interned in Germany during the Second World War making up as many as 60% of all interned British citizens in occupied territory during this period This book carries out an in depth analysis of artwork objects oral testimonies archives poetry letters diaries and memoirs gathered from the internees and drawing from around one hundred collections The work is based on over 15 years of research and interviews with more than 65 former internees and explores analytical themes and narratives of placemaking resistance communities food and cooking It also proposes new concepts and categories to help us understand objects that distinguish the experience of internment This book will be of great value for scholars and museum professionals as well as postgraduate students in the field of Conflict Archaeology and scholars of the Second World War Cumulatively this materiality comprises one of the major surviving assemblages of internees to emerge from the war comparable in size quality and importance with that from other theatres of war

When Can We Go Back to America? Susan H. Kamei, 2022-09-27 An oral history about Japanese internment during World War II after the bombing of Pearl Harbor from the perspective of children and young people affected

Nature Behind Barbed Wire Connie Y. Chiang, 2018-08-02 The mass imprisonment of over 110 000 people of Japanese ancestry during World War II was one of the most egregious violations of civil liberties in United States history Removed from their homes on the temperate Pacific Coast Japanese Americans spent the war years in desolate camps in the nation's interior Photographers including Ansel Adams and Dorothea Lange visually captured these camps in images that depicted the environment as a source of both hope and hardship And yet the literature on incarceration has most often focused on the legal and citizenship statuses of the incarcerated their political struggles with the US government and their oral testimony Nature Behind Barbed Wire shifts the focus to the environment It explores how the landscape shaped the experiences of both Japanese Americans and federal officials who worked for the War Relocation Authority WRA the civilian agency that administered the camps The complexities of the natural world both enhanced and constrained the WRA's power and provided Japanese Americans with opportunities to redefine the terms and conditions of their confinement Even as the environment compounded their feelings of despair and outrage the incarcerated also found that their agency in transforming and adapting to the natural world could help them survive and contest their incarceration Japanese Americans and WRA officials negotiated the terms of confinement with each other and with a dynamic natural world Ultimately as Connie Chiang demonstrates the Japanese American incarceration was fundamentally an environmental story

Beneath Heavy Pines in World War II Louisiana Hayley Johnson, Sarah Simms, 2023-06-21 December 7 1941 changed the lives of thousands of Japanese Americans who became enemy in the eyes of the United States government within hours With Pearl Harbor still smoldering these men would be arrested and put into the enemy alien internment system As the study of internment has steadily grown the information about the confinement sites and ability to piece together the experiences of the men within has remained a challenging task Camp Livingston famous as a site for the Louisiana Maneuvers holds a darker and less well known history From 1942 1943 over 1 000 men of Japanese ancestry were held in this internment camp in the pine forests of central Louisiana The authors approach this camp's history via the experiences and linkages to and through two families the

Miyamotos and Koharas who are the beating heart at the center of this saga Through them the authors have laid out a historical counter narrative that is part biography and part critical exploration of a forgotten chapter of American history This manuscript is the first of its kind to focus primarily on exploring Camp Livingston arguably one of the lesser known enemy alien internment camps in depth including its layout operations and the daily life and experiences of the internees within

Ecocriticism and Asian American Literature Begoña Simal-González, 2020-01-24 Ecocriticism and Asian American Literature Gold Mountains Weedflowers and Murky Globes offers an ecocritical reinterpretation of Asian American literature The book considers more than a century of Asian American writing from Eaton's Mrs Spring Fragrance 1912 to Ozeki's A Tale for the Time Being 2013 through an ecocritical lens The volume explores the most relevant landmarks in Asian American literature the first contact narratives written by Bulosan Kingston Mukherjee and Jen the controversial texts published by Sui Sin Far Edith Eaton at the time of the Yellow Peril the rise of cultural nationalism in the 1970s and 1980s illustrated by Wong's Homepage and Kingston's China Men old and recent examples of internment literature dealing with the incarceration of Japanese Americans during WWII Sone Houston Miyake Kadohata and the new trends in Asian American literature since the 1990s exemplified by Yamashita's and Ozeki's novels which explore the challenges of our transnational transnatural era Begoña Simal-González's ecocritical readings of these texts provide crucial interdisciplinary insights addressing and analyzing important narratives within Asian American culture and literature

Critical Public Archaeology Camille Westmont, 2022-09-13 Critical approaches to public archaeology have been in use since the 1980s however only recently have archaeologists begun using critical theory in conjunction with public archaeology to challenge dominant narratives of the past This volume brings together current work on the theory and practice of critical public archaeology from Europe and the United States to illustrate the ways that implementing critical approaches can introduce new understandings of the past and reveal new insights on the present Contributors to this volume explore public perceptions of museum interpretations as well as public archaeology projects related to changing perceptions of immigration the working classes and race

Asian American Literature and the Environment Lorna Fitzsimmons, Youngsuk Chae, Bella Adams, 2014-10-24 This book is a groundbreaking transnational study of representations of the environment in Asian American literature Extending and renewing Asian American studies and ecocriticism by drawing the two fields into deeper dialogue it brings Asian American writers to the center of ecocritical studies This collection demonstrates the distinctiveness of Asian American writers' positions on topics of major concern today environmental justice identity and the land war environments consumption urban environments and the environment and creativity Represented authors include Amy Tan Maxine Hong Kingston Ruth Ozeki Ha Jin Fae Myenne Ng Le Ly Hayslip Lan Cao Mitsuye Yamada Lawson Fusao Inada Jeanne Wakatsuki Houston Milton Murayama Don Lee and Hisaye Yamamoto These writers provide a range of perspectives on the historical social psychological economic philosophical and aesthetic responses of Asian Americans to the environment conceived in relation to labor racism immigration domesticity global capitalism relocation pollution violence and religion Contributors apply a diversity of critical frameworks including critical radical race studies counter memory studies ecofeminism and geomantic criticism The book presents a compelling and timely green perspective through which to understand key works of Asian American literature and leads the field of ecocriticism into neglected terrain
