The Intertextuality and Intermediality of the Anglophone Popular Song Michael Ingham, 2022-09-07 Popular song is a liminal hybrid form of cultural production As a manifestation of adaptation studies it has lacked visibility by comparison with more dominant adaptation practices especially those for the screen This book serves to fill this gap It investigates what songwriters read and write before they start singing showing that they need either to adapt material from existing sources or write their own lyrics drawn from a wide range of source texts and personal experiences They are subject to myriad influences and among these are other song lyrics poems novels plays films and hybrid cultural forms This deep structure intertextuality is embedded in the cultural flux of language and operates at both conscious and subconscious levels This book thus explores the complex and multifarious intertextual connections between popular songs of various genres styles and eras and literary works including but by no means limited to the Bible and Shakespeare As such it offers a valuable resource by exploring the deep intertextual significance of literary source material for the intellectual and emotional diversity that can be found in the popular song form the inverse reciprocal relationship while much less common is also considered in the study

Seductive Forms Ros Ballaster,1992-07-02 Historicist and feminist accounts of the rise of the novel have neglected the phenomenon of the professional woman writer in England prior to the advent of the sentimental novel in the 1740s Seductive Forms explores the means by which the three leading Tory women novelists of the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries challenged and reworked both contemporary gender ideologies and generic convention The seduction plot provided Aphra Behn Delarivier Manley and Eliza Haywood with a vehicle for dramatizing their own appropriation of the masculine power of fiction making Seduction is employed in these fictions as a metaphor for both novelistic production the seduction of the reader by the writer and party political machination the seduction of the public by the politician This challenging and lively book also explores the debts early prose fiction owed to French seventeenth century models of fiction writing and argues that Behn Manley and Haywood succeed in producing a distinctively English and female form for the amatory novel
