Stickhandling Through the Margins Michael A. Robidoux, 2012-01-01 Some of hockey's fiercest and most passionate players and fans can be found among Canada's First Nations populations including NHL greats Jordin Tootoo Jonathan Cheechoo and Gino Odjick At first glance the importance of hockey to the country's Aboriginal peoples may seem to indicate assimilation into mainstream society but Michael A Robidoux reveals that the game is played and understood very differently in this cultural context Rather than capitulating to the Euro Canadian construct of sport First Nations hockey has become an important site for expressing rich local knowledge and culture With stories and observations gleaned from three years of ethnographic research Stickhandling through the Margins richly illustrates how hockey is played and experienced by First Nations peoples across Canada both in isolated reserve communities and at tournaments that bring together participants from across the country Robidoux's vivid description transports readers into the world of First Nations hockey revealing it to be a highly social and at times even spiritual activity ripe with hidden layers of meaning that are often surprising to the outside observer

Entrepreneurial Seoulite Mihye Cho, 2019-02-01 Entrepreneurial Seoulite might be read as a memoir on Hongdae based on the author's observations as a member of South Korea's Generation X During the 1990's Hongdae became widely known as a cool place associated with discourses on alternative music independent labels and club culture Today Hongdae is well known for its youth culture and nightlife as well as its gentrification Recent research on Korean culture approaches the K wave phenomenon from the perspectives of cultural consumption media analysis and cultural management and policy Meanwhile studies on Seoul have centered on its transformation as a global creative city Rather than examining the K wave or the city itself this book explores the experience of living through the city in transition focusing on the relationship between the ideology that justified engagement in capitalism and the subjectification process The book aims to understand the project to institutionalize a cultural district in Hongdae as a demonstration of the coevolution of ideologies and citizenship in a society undergoing rapid liberalization politically culturally and economically A cultural turn took place in Korea during the 1990s amid the economic prosperity driven by state led industrialization and the collapse of the military dictatorship due to democratization movements Cultural critiques emerging as an alternative to social movements proliferated to assert the freedom and autonomy of individuals against regulatory systems and institutions The nation was hit by the Asian financial crisis in 1997 and witnessed massive economic restructuring including layoffs stakeouts and a prevalence of contingent employment As a result the entire nation had to find new engines of economic growth while experiencing a creative destruction At the center of this national transformation Seoul has sought to recreate itself from a mega city to a global city equipped with cutting edge knowledge industries and infrastructures By juxtaposing the cultural turn and cultural creative city making Entrepreneurial Seoulite interrogates the formation of new citizen subjectivity namely the enterprising self in post Fordist Seoul What kinds of logic guide individuals in the engagement of new urban realities in rapidly liberalized Seoul culturally and economically In order to explore this query Mihye Cho draws on Weber s concept of the spirit of capitalism on the formation of a new economic agency focusing on the re configuration of meanings and seeks to capture a transformative moment detailing when and how capitalism requests a different spirit and lifestyle of its participants Likewise this book approaches the enterprising self as the new spirit of post Fordist Seoul and explores the ways in which people in Seoul internalize and negotiate this new enterprising self

The Anti-Politics Machine Julie Jenkins,2017-07-05 James Ferguson s 1990 study The Anti Politics Machine was a radical intervention in development studies that remains influential in the field today It is also an excellent example of the way in which creative thinking can help shake up an idea and show problems in a new light Ferguson s interest was development strategies in the Third World the interventions by which aid agencies NGOs and individual countries try to raise poor areas or countries economic and living standards Embedded in the community in Lesotho a small country in southern Africa Ferguson noted that time and time again the same strategies were used by agencies and foreign powers despite the fact that they had failed many times before Seeking to analyse the implications of this discovery Ferguson made a move that is often employed by creative thinkers he stepped outside of the standard interpretative framework and applied a novel way of interpreting the problem In this case Ferguson imported his framework and methodology from the French philosopher and historian Michel Foucault whose theories of power dynamics enabled Ferguson to see the failed development strategies from an entirely new perspective It is a simple but impactful move that helped revolutionise the discussion Page 5
