Architectural Terracottas Sanctuary Punta Kaulonia:

Architectural Terracottas at the Sanctuary of Punta Stilo at Kaulonia Nicola Giaccone, 2015 This monograph focuses on Greek architectural terracottas coming from recent excavations at the urban sanctuary of Kaulonia a polis on the eastern coast of Calabria The work outlines the phenomenon of architectural terracottas in their diachronic development clarifying the manner in which their production first arose reconstructing the range of distribution of the products of Kaulonia among the most important in Magna Graecia and highlighting their links with other materials of the same class in Greece and Southern Italy It also examines significant aspects of production and attempts to investigate the ideological elements implicit in horn roofs a peculiar group of Southern Italy terracottas The monograph further presents results that are of interest to wider architectural studies and Greek archaeology including a reappraisal of horn roofs class and a new identification of roofs found at Olympia

New Directions and Paradigms for the Study of Greek Architecture, 2019-11-26 New Directions and Paradigms for the Study of Greek Architecture comprises 20 chapters by nearly three dozen scholars who describe recent discoveries new theoretical frameworks and applications of cutting edge techniques in their architectural research The contributions are united by several broad themes that represent the current directions of study in the field i e the organization and techniques used by ancient Greek builders and designers the use and life history of Greek monuments over time the communication of ancient monuments with their intended audiences together with their reception by later viewers the mining of large sets of architectural data for socio economic inference and the recreation and simulation of audio visual experiences of ancient monuments and sites by means of digital technologies

An Inventory of Archaic and Classical Poleis Mogens Herman Hansen, Thomas Heine Nielsen, 2004-11-11 This is the first ever documented study of the 1 035 identifiable Greek city states poleis of the Archaic and Classical periods c 650 325 BC Previous studies of the Greek polis have focused on Athens and Sparta and the result has been a view of Greek society dominated by Sophokles Plato s and Demosthenes view of what the polis was This study includes descriptions of Athens and Sparta but its main purpose is to explore the history and organization of the thousand other city states The main part of the book is a regionally organized inventory of all identifiable poleis covering the Greek world from Spain to the Caucasus and from the Crimea to Libya This inventory is the work of 47 specialists and is divided into 46 chapters each covering a region Each chapter contains an account of the region a list of second order settlements and an alphabetically ordered description of the poleis This description covers such topics as polis status territory settlement pattern urban centre city walls and monumental architecture population military strength constitution alliance membership colonization coinage and Panhellenic victors The first part of the book is a description of the method and principles applied in the construction of the inventory and an analysis of some of the results to be obtained by a comparative study of the 1 035 poleis included in it The ancient Greek concept of polis is distinguished from the modern term city state which historians use to cover many other historic civilizations from ancient Sumeria to the West African cultures absorbed by the nineteenth century colonializing powers The focus of this project is what the Greeks themselves considered a polis to be La stipe votiva di Monticchio Bagni (Rionero in Vulture, Italia) Annarita Sannazzaro,2021 Il volume presenta lo studio di un deposito votivo inedito IV III secolo a C scoperto nella Basilicata nord occidentale agli inizi del XX secolo A Companion to Greek Architecture Margaret M.
