Architecture Cin Ma Jean Attali:

Manifesto for a Cinematic Architecture Pascal Schöning, 2006 Cinematic Architecture is a manifesto for an architecture that transforms solid material into the appearance of energy and spatiality Its main building material is light and its ultimate aim is to achieve an ethereal state which only becomes real when it is energized by the person who occupies it

Gilles Deleuze and Félix Guattari François Dosse, 2011 In May 1968 Gilles Deleuze was an established philosopher teaching at the innovative Vincennes University just outside of Paris Felix Guattari was a political militant and director of an unusual psychiatric clinic at La Borde Their meeting was unlikely and the two were introduced in an arranged encounter of epic consequence From that moment on Deleuze and Guattari engaged in a surprising productive partnership collaborating on several groundbreaking works including Anti Oedipus What Is Philosophy and A Thousand Plateaus Francois Dosse a prominent French intellectual examines the prolific if improbable relationship between two men of distinct and differing sensibilities Drawing on unpublished archives and hundreds of personal interviews Dosse elucidates a collaboration that lasted more than two decades underscoring the role that family and history particularly the turbulence of May 1968 played in their monumental work He also takes the measure of Deleuze and Guattari's posthumous fortunes and weighs the impact of their thought within intellectual academic and professional circles
