The painting depicts a vast, desolate landscape of ice and water. The ice is rendered in various shades of white and blue, with sharp, jagged edges and deep shadows. The water is a dark, almost black, with subtle ripples and reflections. The sky is a pale, uniform grey, suggesting an overcast day. The overall mood is one of isolation and melancholy.

The painting is a large-scale work, measuring 100 x 150 cm. It is made of oil on canvas. The composition is dominated by the large, jagged iceberg in the center, which appears to be melting or breaking apart. The dark water and pale sky create a stark contrast with the white and blue of the ice.
