A Poetics Of Unnatural Narrative Theory Interpretation Narrativ:

A Poetics of Unnatural Narrative Brian Richardson, Henrik Skov Nielsen, Jan Alber, 2013 A Poetics of Unnatural Narrative offers a collection of foundational essays introducing the reader to the full scope of unnatural narrative theory its meaning its goals its extent its paradoxes This volume brings together a distinguished group of international critics scholars and historians of literature that includes several of the world's leading narrative theorists Together they survey many basic areas of narrative studies from an unnatural perspective story time space voice minds narrative levels realism nonfiction hyperfiction and narrative poetry Rarely have these fundamental concepts been subjected to such an original and thoroughgoing reconceptualization Much of the book is directed toward an investigation of experimental and antirealist work Each essay focuses on texts and episodes that narrative theory has tended to neglect and each provides theoretical formulations that are commensurate with such exceptional works A Poetics of Unnatural Narrative articulates and delineates the newest and most radical movement in narrative studies This anthology will be of great interest to students and scholars of narrative studies and of the history and theory of modern fiction Unnatural Narratives - Unnatural Narratology Jan Alber, Rüdiger Heinze, 2011-09-29 In recent years the study of unnatural narratives has become an exciting new but still disparate research program in narrative theory For the first time this collection of essays presents and discusses the new analytical tools that have so far been developed on the basis of unnatural novels short stories and plays and extends these findings through analyses of testimonies comics graphic novels films and oral narratives Many narratives do not only mimetically reproduce the world as we know it but confront us with strange narrative worlds which rely on principles that have very little to do with the actual world around us The essays in this collection develop new narratological tools and modeling systems which are designed to capture the strangeness and extravagance of such anti realist narratives Taken together the essays offer a systematic investigation of anti mimetic techniques and strategies that relate to different narrative parameters different media and different periods within literary history Narrative, Interrupted Markku Lehtimäki, Laura Karttunen, Maria Mäkelä, 2012-08-31 Recent postclassical narratology has constructed top down reading models that often remain blind to the frame breaking potential of individual literary narratives Narrative Interrupted goes beyond the macro framing typical of postclassical narratology and sets out to sketch approaches more sensitive to generic specificities disturbing details and authorial interference Unlike the mainstream cognitive approaches or even the emergent unnatural narratology the articles collected here explore the artifice involved in presenting something ordinary and realistic in literature The first section of the book deals with anti dynamic elements such as dialogue details private events and literary boredom The second section devoted to extensions of cognitive narratology addresses spatiotemporal oddities and the possibility of non human narratives The third section focuses on frame breaking fragmentarity and problems of authorship in the works of Vladimir Nabokov The book presents readings of texts ranging from the novels of Don DeLillo and

Thomas Pynchon to the Animal Man comics The common denominator for the texts discussed is the interruption of the chain of events or of the experiential flow of human like narrative agents      Unnatural Narrative Brian Richardson, 2015      The Stylistics of Landscapes, the Landscapes of Stylistics John Douthwaite, Daniela Francesca Viridis, Elisabetta Zurru, 2017-11-15 In treating the topic of the landscapes of stylistics this book provides a series of chapters which deal not only with physical landscapes but also with social mental historical portraits of places people and society The chapters demonstrate that all texts project a worldview even when the content appears to be only a physical description of the external world The implication is that texts attempt to produce specific effects on the reader determined by the author's worldview Contents and effects namely mental and emotional states behaviours are thus inseparable Identifying those effects and how they are produced is an eminently cognitive operation The chapters analyse a variety of linguistic devices and cognitive mechanisms employed in producing the text and accounting for the effects achieved Though the majority of the chapters have a cognitive basis a wide range of methodologies are employed including ecostylistics offering cutting edge theoretical approaches teamed up with close reading A further crucial feature of this collection is the selection of non canonical texts ranging from lesser known texts in English to significant works in languages other than English all of which are characterised by important social themes thus emphasising the importance of critical appreciation as a means of self empowerment      Reading Today Heta Pyrhönen, Janna Kantola, 2018-01-15 New technologies are changing our reading habits Laptops e readers tablets and other handheld devices supply new platforms for reading and we must learn to manage them by scrolling clicking or tapping Reading Today places reading in current literary and cultural contexts in order to analyse how these contexts challenge our conceptions of who reads what reading is how we read where we read and for what purposes and then responds to the questions this analysis raises Is our reading experience becoming a flat one And does reading in a media environment favour quick reading Alongside these questions the contributors unpack emerging strategies of reading They consider for example how paying attention to readers emotional reactions as an indispensable component of reading affects our conception of the reading process Other chapters consider how reading can be explored through such topics as experimental literature the contemporary encyclopedic novel and the healing power of books      Handbook of Narrative Analysis Luc Herman, Bart Vervaeck, 2019-12-01 Stories are everywhere from fiction across media to politics and personal identity Handbook of Narrative Analysis sorts out both traditional and recent narrative theories providing the necessary skills to interpret any story In addition to discussing classical theorists such as Gérard Genette Mieke Bal and Seymour Chatman Handbook of Narrative Analysis presents precursors such as E M Forster related theorists Franz Stanzel Dorrit Cohn and a large variety of postclassical critics Among the latter particular attention is paid to rhetorical cognitive and cultural approaches intermediality storyworlds gender theory and natural and unnatural narratology Not content to consider theory as an end in itself Luc Herman and Bart Vervaeck use two short stories and a graphic narrative by contemporary authors as touchstones to illustrate each approach to narrative. In doing so they illuminate the practical implications of theoretical preferences and the ideological leanings underlying them. Marginal glosses guide the reader through discussions of theoretical issues and an extensive bibliography points readers to the most current publications in the field. Written in an accessible style, this handbook combines a comprehensive treatment of its subject with a user-friendly format appropriate for specialists and nonspecialists alike. Handbook of Narrative Analysis is the go-to book for understanding and interpreting narrative. This new edition revises and extends the first edition to describe and apply the last fifteen years of cutting-edge scholarship in the field of narrative theory.

Strange Voices in Narrative Fiction Per Krogh Hansen, Stefan Iversen, Henrik Skov Nielsen, Rolf Reitan, 2011-10-27 From its beginnings narratology has incorporated a communicative model of literary narratives considering these as simulations of natural oral acts of communication. This approach, however, has had some problems with accounting for the strangeness and anomalies of modern and postmodern narratives. As many skeptics have shown, not even classical realism conforms to the standard set by oral or natural storytelling. Thus, an urge to confront narratology with the difficult task of reconsidering a most basic premise in its theoretical and analytical endeavors has for some time been undeniable. During the 2000s, Nordic narratologists have been among the most active and insistent critics of the communicative model. They share a marked skepticism towards the idea of using natural narratives as a model for understanding and interpreting all kinds of narratives and for all of them the distinction of fiction is of vital importance. This anthology presents a collection of new articles that deal with strange narratives, narratives of the strange, or more generally with the strangeness of fiction and even with some strange aspects of narratology.

Emerging Vectors of Narratology Per Krogh Hansen, John Pier, Philippe Roussin, Wolf Schmid, 2017-08-07 Narratology has been flourishing in recent years thanks to investigations into a broad spectrum of narratives at the same time diversifying its theoretical and disciplinary scope as it has sought to specify the status of narrative within both society and scientific research. The diverse endeavors engendered by this situation have brought narrative to the forefront of the social and human sciences and have generated new synergies in the research environment. Emerging Vectors of Narratology brings together 27 state-of-the-art contributions by an international panel of authors that provide insight into the wealth of new developments in the field. The book consists of two sections. Contexts includes articles that reframe and refine such topics as the implied author, narrative causation, and transmedial forms of narrative; it also investigates various historical and cultural aspects of narrative from the narratological perspective. Openings expands on these and other questions by addressing the narrative turn, cognitive issues, narrative complexity, and metatheoretical matters. The book is intended for narratologists as well as for readers in the social and human sciences for whom narrative has become a crucial matrix of inquiry.
