Critical Heritage Studies and the Futures of Europe Rodney Harrison, Nélia Dias, Kristian Kristiansen , 2023-10-24 Cultural and natural heritage are central to Europe and the European project They were bound up in the emergence of nation states in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries where they were used to justify differences over which border conflicts were fought Later the idea of a common European heritage provided a rationale for the development of the European Union Now the emergence of new populist nationalisms shows how the imagined past continues to play a role in cultural and social governance while a series of interlinked social and ecological crises are changing the ways that heritage operates with new discourses and ontologies emerging to reconfigure heritage for the circumstances of the present and the uncertainties of the future Taking the current role of heritage in Europe as its starting point Critical Heritage Studies and the Futures of Europe presents a number of case studies that explore key themes in this transformation Contributors draw on a range of disciplinary perspectives to consider variously the role of heritage and museums in the migration and climate emergencies approaches to urban heritage conservation and practices of curating cities digital and digitised heritage the use of heritage as a therapeutic resource and critical approaches to heritage and its management Taken together the chapters explore the multiple ontologies through which cultural and natural heritage have

and continue to intervene actively in redrawing the futures of Europe and the world Praise for Critical Heritage Studies and the Futures of Europe Filled with many fascinating and diverse chapters this book vividly demonstrates the dynamism and breadth of critical heritage study of in and entangled with Europe today Sharon Macdonald Alexander von Humboldt Professor of Social Anthropology and Director of the Centre for Anthropological Research on Museums and Heritage CARMAH in the Institute of European Ethnology at Humboldt University zu Berlin Far from being restrictive let alone chauvinistic the multiscalar European focus of this book confirms the breadth and relevance of current critical heritage studies With contributions addressing such topical issues as climate emergencies urban landscapes cultural industries new media and identity politics be they written by established scholars or by emerging researchers it is Europe with all its shared grounds and recurrent divergences that comes into sharper relief From this vantage point readers of this compelling book will be better positioned for reflecting on and eventually influencing and challenging our heritage futures Nathan Schlanger Professor of Archaeology cole nationale des chartes Paris This book addresses European heritage realities and futures through new voices paradigms and methods It is a collage of tensions practically a representation of Europe itself through which to comprehend contemporary intersections of time place things and meaning It contributes to new vistas in heritage studies the offer of design and imagination as methods reckonings with data and climate change as seemingly uncontrollable actors and the ongoing negotiation of criticality in the making of our responsibilities for the past in the present Christopher Whitehead Professor of Museology Newcastle University Ancient Violence in the Modern Imagination Irene Berti, Maria G. Castello, Carla Scilabra, 2020-10-15 The collected essays in this volume focus on the presentation representation and interpretation of ancient violence from war to slavery rape and murder in the modern visual and performing arts with special attention to videogames and dance as well as the more usual media of film literature and theatre Violence fury and the dread that they provoke are factors that appear frequently in the ancient sources The dark side of antiquity so distant from the ideal of purity and harmony that the classical heritage until recently usually called forth has repeatedly struck the imagination of artists writers and scholars across ages and cultures A global assembly of contributors from Europe to Brazil and from the US to New Zealand consider historical and mythical violence in Stanley Kubrick's Spartacus and the 2010 TV series of the same name in Ridley Scott's Gladiator in the work of Lars von Trier and in Soviet ballet and the choreography of Martha Graham and Anita Berber Representations of Roman warfare appear in videogames such as Ryse Son of Rome and Total War as well as recent comics and examples from both these media are analysed in the volume Finally interviews with two artists offer insight into the ways in which practitioners understand and engage with the complex reception of these themes Transforming Food Systems in Latin America and the Caribbean: Increasing Sustainability, Resilience and Adaptation to Climate Change Leida Y.
