Emerging Nanotechnologies for Water Treatment Yanbiao Liu, Chong-Chen Wang, Wen Liu, 2021-10-26 Rapid population growth urbanisation and industrialisation have caused serious problems in terms of water pollution and the supply of safe water. Solutions for monitoring pollutants in water and for removing them are urgently needed and they must be both efficient and sustainable. Recent advances in emerging environmental nanotechnologies provide promising solutions for these issues. The physical and chemical properties of nanomaterials can be tailored by controlling attributes such as their size, shape, composition and surface so that they can be both highly specific and highly efficient. This makes them perfect platforms for a variety of environmental applications including sensing, treatment and remediation. Providing an array of cutting edge nanotechnology research in water applications including sensing, treatment and remediation as well as a discussion of progress in the rational design and engineering of nanomaterials for environmental applications, this book is a valuable reference for researchers working in applications for nanotechnology, environmental chemistry and environmental engineering as well as those working in the water treatment industry. Progress in Waste Management Research James I. Davenport, Robert Nicholas Klein, 2008. Waste management is the collection, transport, processing, recycling or disposal of waste materials. The term usually relates to materials produced by human activity and is generally undertaken to reduce their effect on health, aesthetics or amenity. Waste management is also carried out to reduce the materials effect on the environment and to recover resources from them. Waste management can involve solid, liquid or gaseous substances with different methods and fields of expertise for each. Waste management practices differ for developed and developing nations for urban and rural areas and for residential and industrial producers. Management for non-hazardous residential and institutional waste in metropolitan areas is usually the responsibility of local government authorities while management for non-hazardous commercial and industrial waste is usually the responsibility of the generator. This book concentrates on the newest research in the field. Applied Mechanics Reviews, 1983 2025-26 UPSSSC Solved Papers & Practice YCT Expert Team, Indian Science Abstracts, 2007-03 Physics Briefs, 1994 World Agricultural Economics and Rural Sociology Abstracts, 1995 Abstracts, 1982 Mathematical Reviews, 2002 Landers Sean Sean Landers, Beatrix Ruf, 2004. The Kunsthalle Zurich presents an overview of Sean Landers' oeuvre in his first institutional solo exhibition ever including text and cartoon works on paper, paintings, sculptures, video and audio works from 1992 to the present.
