

The image shows a blank periodic table grid. It consists of a main body with 18 columns and 7 rows, and a separate section at the bottom for the lanthanide and actinide series. The main body is divided into four blocks: a small block on the far left (1 column), a block on the far right (6 columns), and two large central blocks (each 10 columns wide). The lanthanide and actinide series are represented by two rows of 14 cells each, positioned below the main body.
