Jellicoe's War Nicholas Jellicoe, 2024-12-31 In February 1917 German U boats launched a savage unrestricted campaign against both Allied and neutral shipping At its peak in April 860 000 tons of Allied merchant shipping was sunk Britain's supremacy at sea was being severely challenged and with it the chances of victory in the wider war Taking up the challenge was Britain's new First Sea Lord Sir John Jellicoe until the previous December C in C of the Grand Fleet famously described by Churchill as the only man who could have lost the war in an afternoon The battle he now faced was equally critical although the timeline of defeat was a matter of days rather than hours Britain's food stocks were dangerously low with wheat reserves down to six weeks and sugar to only two while wide scale shortages were crippling the industrial economy Jellicoe outlined the gravity of the situation with total candor to Rear Admiral William Sims USN sent over before America officially declared war by Franklin Roosevelt the Assistant Secretary of the Navy The two men already knew each other from service together in China during the Boxer Rebellion so Jellicoe's plea for urgent American assistance was taken seriously by Sims After the USA joined the war in April 1917 together they lobbied Washington for aid addressing their needs directly to two reluctant Anglophobes at the head of the USN Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and Chief of Naval Operations William Benson Clearly a radical new approach to anti submarine warfare was called for and Convoy was the leading contender There were many objections to protecting shipping in this way some ideological but most practical a workable system for example effectively required state control of both shipping and distribution networks something inconceivable in normal circumstances However Convoy had powerful advocates including the Prime Minister Lloyd George who later claimed he had personally forced its adoption on a reluctant Admiralty This self serving political myth cast Jellicoe as an opponent of Convoy nothing could be further from the truth As both Jellicoe and Sims understood the key requirement was a rapid increase in the number of destroyers for escort duties America provided them the first arriving in Queenstown Ireland on 4 May and by June 46 were operating in European waters This was the first step in an Anglo American campaign that gradually brought the U boat threat under control and led to its ultimate defeat This book takes a fresh look at the undersea war as a whole and all the complex factors bearing on the campaign only one of which was convoy Its analysis is original and its conclusions thought provoking an important contribution to the naval history of the Great War      Survival: June - July 2023 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS),2023-06-09 Survival the IISS s bimonthly journal challenges conventional wisdom and brings fresh often controversial perspectives on strategic issues of the moment In this issue Hannah Aries Bastian Giegerich and Tim Lawrenson assess that Europe s defence industry will struggle to meet increased production needs In 2007 the late Ronald Steel judged that while the Iraq War had weakened the United States it would not profoundly affect US foreign policy from the archive Dana H Allin reflects on Ronald Steel s legacy and prospects for the extended American Century Liana Fix argues that the West should formulate security guarantees for Ukraine in parallel with its counter offensive Daniel Sobelman assesses that the Yemen based Houthi rebel movement is emulating Hizbullah And seven more thought provoking pieces as well as our regular Book Reviews and Noteworthy column Editor Dr Dana Allin Managing Editor Jonathan Stevenson Associate Editor Carolyn West Editorial Assistant Charlie Zawadzki      War with China David C. Self-Defense Force, 1945-2015 David Hunter-Chester, 2016-11-30 Creating Japan's Ground Self Defense Force 1945 2015 is a timely contribution to postwar Japan security studies. It is the first comprehensive account of Japan's post 1945 army including a comprehensive institutional history together with the evolution of roles and missions and the adoption of successive professional identities. The organizational history is embedded within a thorough examination of Japan's own defense policy as well as of America's policy of alliance with Japan. The book examines and challenges assumptions about the drafting and adoption of the War Renunciation clause of Japan's postwar Peace Constitution Article 9 which uniquely not only renounces war but the arms to wage war. Thus Japan's army is not called an army but the Ground Self Defense Force (GSDF). The work also examines the place of an army and soldiers in the formation of Japan's national identity after its last devastating war and explores the impact of constitutional legal and policy restrictions as well as the power of the legacy of the still largely vilified Imperial Japanese Army on GSDF members who seek to serve because there are people we want to protect. The study is rounded by an examination of the place of soldiers in Japan's popular culture focused on movies, manga and anime, assessing the impact on the GSDF of a public imagination that most often ignores or villainizes soldiers though ending with a note that some positive images of soldiers and of the GSDF members themselves have started to appear in the last few years. The book's author, a retired U.S. Army soldier who spent more than twenty years working, studying and training with the GSDF, offers a broad ranging exploration of a unique organization. This work is extensively researched using English and Japanese sources and will appeal to anyone interested in Japanese security studies, alliance studies and military imagery in Japanese pop culture as well as to students of military history, international security, international relations and cultural identity.

US-Chinese Strategic Triangles S. Mahmud Ali, 2017-06-07 This book reveals the nature of Sino-US strategic competition by examining the influence exerted by major secondary stakeholders e.g. Japan, Russia, India, the Koreas and ASEAN on the two powers, USA and its rival China, who consider each other as a source of greatest challenges to their respective interests. By adopting strategic triangles as the analytical framework and assessing triangular relational dynamics such as US-China-Japan or US-China-Russia, the author illustrates how secondary stakeholders advance their own interests by exploiting their respective linkages to the two rivals, thereby shaping Sino-US competitive dynamics. This work adds a regional and multivariable perspective to the understanding of the Indo-Pacific's insecurity challenges.

Warhead Nicholas Wright, 2025-10-07 From Dr. Nicholas Wright, leading neuroscientist and adviser to the Pentagon, discover the new science behind warfare. Why did France lose to the Nazis despite its defenders having more tanks, troops and guns? How did we bring peace to Germany after World War Two? How do you know if you can trust an ally? How can we make clearer decisions under pressure? In Warhead, Nicholas Wright takes us on a fascinating journey through the brain to show us how it shapes our behaviour in conflict and war. Drawing on his work as a neuroscientist and over a decade advising the Pentagon and the UK Government, Wright reveals that whether we like it or not, the brain is wired for conflict in the office or on the battlefield. With a unique framework that helps explain today's rising tensions and how to defuse them Warhead brings cutting edge research to life through battle stories from history What was it like for a foot soldier at the Battle of Waterloo in 1815 or in China's Red Army as it fought to survive and triumph throughout the 1930s and 40s How could leaders such as World War Two tank commanders Shaka Zulu or Winston Churchill see through the fog of conflict make better decisions and communicate with those who must carry those decisions out How will human conflict shape our future technologies In an increasingly dangerous world that threatens our values and success Warhead is an essential read to understand why we fight lose and win wars Because self knowledge is power      Mao's Third Front Covell F. Meyskens, 2020-05-14 In 1964 the Chinese Communist Party CCP made a momentous policy decision In response to rising tensions with the United States and Soviet Union a top secret massive military industrial complex in the mountains of inland China was built which the CCP hoped to keep hidden from enemy bombers Mao named this the Third Front The Third Front received more government investment than any other developmental initiative of the Mao era and yet this huge industrial war machine which saw the mobilization of fifteen million people was not officially acknowledged for over a decade and a half Drawing on a rich collection of archival documents memoirs and oral interviews Covell Meyskens provides the first history of the Third Front campaign He shows how the militarization of Chinese industrialization linked millions of everyday lives to the global Cold War merging global geopolitics with local change
