The Alawis of Syria Michael Kerr, Craig Larkin, 2015-01-12 A wide ranging exploration of the cultural and historical hinterland of Syria's powerful Shia minority

The Caliph and the Imam Toby Matthiesen, 2023-02-07 The authoritative account of the sectarian division that for centuries has shaped events in the Middle East and the Islamic world In 632 soon after the prophet Muhammad died a struggle broke out among his followers as to who would succeed him The majority argued that the new leader of Islam should be elected by the community's elite Others believed only members of Muhammad's family could lead This dispute over who should guide Muslims the appointed Caliph or the bloodline Imam marks the origin of the Sunni Shii split in Islam Toby Matthiesen explores this hugely significant division from its origins to the present day Moving chronologically his book sheds light on the many ways that it has shaped the Islamic world outlining how over the centuries Sunnism and Shiism became Islam's two main branches particularly after the Muslim Empires embraced sectarian identity It reveals how colonial rule institutionalised divisions between Sunnism and Shiism both on the Indian subcontinent and in the greater Middle East giving rise to pan Islamic resistance and Sunni and Shii revivalism It then focuses on the fall out from the 1979 revolution in Iran and the US led military intervention in Iraq As Matthiesen shows however though Sunnism and Shiism have had a long and antagonistic history most Muslims have led lives characterised by confessional ambiguity and peaceful co existence Tensions arise when sectarian identity becomes linked to politics Based on a synthesis of decades of scholarship in numerous languages The Caliph and the Imam will become the standard text for readers looking for a deeper understanding of contemporary sectarian conflict and its historical roots

Armed Organizations and Political Elites in Civil Wars Erwin van Veen, 2024-06-03 This book analyses under what conditions and with what developmental effects armed organizations shift their coercive profile during civil wars with a focus on the recent conflicts in Syria and Iraq The work begins with an operationalisation of the term political settlement focusing on how power is organized in fragile and conflict affected countries and then uses this operationalization to analyse the political settlements of contemporary Syria and Iraq including their breakdown and transformation during recent civil wars of 2011 today in Syria and 2014-17 in Iraq It subsequently examines why and how elite factions have used armed organizations in times of conflict This approach links an understanding of the broad evolution of power relations at the national level with the specific effects of the use of armed organizations on such relations It argues for a shift from assigning fixed labels to armed organizations during civil wars to studying their coercive profile in a dynamic fashion i.e. how armed organizations behave in terms of their use of threats and coercive force The book introduces five profiles of coercive behaviour that demonstrate how the same organization can behave very differently at various points in time One of these the hybrid coercive profile fills a gap in the existing civil war typology of organized armed violence by opening up the possibility of elite factions deliberately combining collaborative and competitive modes of behaviour As an evidence base the book provides in depth analysis of the origins evolution and operations of four armed organizations that have acted under a hybrid coercive profile during the Syrian and Iraqi civil wars the Syrian Kurdish People s Defence Forces the Eagles of the Whirlwind of the Syrian Social Nationalist Party the Iraqi Kurdish Peshmerga and the Badr Organization By connecting the concepts of political settlement and civil war and applying them to specific armed organizations operating in Syria and Iraq the book offers new insights into this nexus This book will be of much interest to students of civil wars conflict studies Middle Eastern Studies and International Relations Christian-Muslim Relations in Syria Andrew W. H. Ashdown,2020-11-25 Offering an authoritative study of the plural religious landscape in modern Syria and of the diverse Christian and Muslim communities that have cohabited the country for centuries this volume considers a wide range of cultural religious and political issues that have impacted the interreligious dynamic putting them in their local and wider context Combining fieldwork undertaken within government held areas during the Syrian conflict with critical historical and Christian theological reflection this research makes a significant contribution to understanding Syria s diverse religious landscape and the multi layered expressions of Christian Muslim relations It discusses the concept of sectarianism and how communal dynamics are crucial to understanding Syrian society The complex wider issues that underlie the relationship are examined including the roles of culture and religious leadership and it questions whether the analytical concept of sectarianism is adequate to describe the complex communal frameworks in the Middle Eastern context Finally the study examines the contributions of contemporary Eastern Christian leaders to interreligious discourse concluding that the theology and spirituality of Eastern Christianity inhabiting the same cultural environment as Islam is uniquely placed to play a major role in interreligious dialogue and in peace making The book offers an original contribution to knowledge and understanding of the changing Christian Muslim dynamic in Syria and the region It should be a key resource to students scholars and readers interested in religion current affairs and the Middle East The Age of Counter-Revolution Jamie Allinson,2022-05-26 The Arab Spring has come to symbolise defeated hopes for democracy and social justice in the Middle East In this book Jamie Allinson demonstrates how these defeats were far from inevitable Rather than conceptualising the Arab Spring as a series of failed revolutions Allinson argues it is better understood as a series of successful counter revolutions By comparing the uprisings in Tunisia Egypt Syria Bahrain Libya and Yemen this book shows how these profoundly revolutionary situations were overturned by counter revolutions Placing the fate of the Arab uprisings in a global context Allinson reveals how counter revolutions rely on popular support and cross borders to forge international alliances By connecting the Arab uprisings to the decade of global protest that followed them this innovative work demonstrates how new forms of counter revolution have rendered it near impossible to implement political change without first enacting fundamental social transformation Revolutionary Emotions Assistant Professor of Political Science Silvana Toska,2024-10-25 For centuries revolutionaries have spoken of the emotional arousal that motivated them to revolt. Studies of revolutions however rarely give these emotional narratives the power that actors themselves recount. This book argues that revolutionary waves from 1848 to the present cannot be explained without the emotions that motivated potential revolutionaries to imitate revolts in neighboring states. The shared identity of revolutionaries across borders leads to a shared emotional arousal and adoption of protest frames and methods. By grounding the theory in revolutionaries' emotional narratives and breaking down the dichotomies that plague revolution research, structure agency domestic international Revolutionary Emotions provides a powerful new theory of revolutionary diffusion and success.

Middle Eastern Minorities Ibrahim Zabad, 2017-03-27 This is a comprehensive survey of minorities in the Middle East with a special focus on the post Arab Spring era. Minority communities in the Middle East are the most susceptible to the turbulence engulfing the region; the majority may suffer physical violence and socioeconomic loss but minorities could potentially vanish. Instead of ushering in democracy and inclusive politics, the revolutionary upheavals have prompted chaos and fear and reinforced the resurgence of Islamic fundamentalism throughout the region. Zabad uses historical sources as well as first hand interviews to vividly describe the current status of minorities in the Middle East, explaining attitudes towards the revolutionary upheavals as well as the various strategies they used to avail themselves of the opportunities presented and to confront the risks posed. The question of ethnic sectarian and religious minorities is situated in the context of the broader history of the region in order to explain the underlying institutional and ideological factors that caused their predicament and problematized their relationship with the majority. The book provides a rich trove of information and insights generated from ten case studies that covered the Shia in Saudi Arabia, Bahrain, Lebanon and Egypt; the Druze, the Alawites, Christians and Kurds in Syria; the Copts in Egypt and the Zaydis in Yemen.

Refugee Encounters at the Turkish-Syrian Border Şule Can, 2019-10-08 The Turkish Syrian borderlands host almost half of the Syrian refugees with an estimated 1.5 million people arriving in the area following the outbreak of the Syrian civil war. This book investigates the ongoing negotiations of ethnicity, religion and state at the border as refugees struggle to settle and to navigate their encounters with the Turkish state and with different sectarian groups. In particular, the book explores the situation in Antakya, the site of the ancient city of Antioch, the cradle of civilizations and now populated by diverse populations of Arab Alawites, Christians and Sunni Turks. The book demonstrates that urban refugee encounters at the margins of the state reveal larger concerns that encompass state practices and regional politics. Overall, the book shows how and why displacement in the Middle East is intertwined with negotiations of identity, politics and state. Faced with an environment of everyday oppression, refugees negotiate their own urban space and refugee status, challenging, resisting and sometimes confirming sectarian boundaries. This book's detailed analysis will be of interest to anthropologists, geographers, sociologists, historians and Middle Eastern studies scholars who are working on questions of displacement, cultural boundaries and the politics of civil war in border regions.

The Syrian force displacement in the middle east

Siqiao Liang, 2024-01-08 In early 2011 the Syrian civil war erupted Numerous militias emerged Civilians died People fled In the past decade Syrians have become the biggest group of refugees in the world Most of the displaced Syrians live within the Middle East region This book asks two big questions first what are the challenges for Syrian refugees in Jordan Lebanon and Turkey to return to Syria and how can they be overcome Second what are the livelihood challenges for Syrian refugees in these countries and how can they be overcome The Syrian Forced Displacement in the Middle East is an exhaustive essay based on more than two hundred days of fieldwork in Syria Jordan Lebanon and Turkey through interviews with more than a thousand refugees and locals as well as officials from government nongovernment and international organizations between 2019 and 2023 It narrates Syrians refugeehood and suggests steps to move forward in the issues of refugee protection and refugee return
