Annihilation of Caste S. Anand, 2014 The Bloomsbury Handbook of Postcolonial Print Cultures Toral Jatin Gajjarawala, Neelam Srivastava, Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, Jack Webb, 2023-08-10 The texts that make up postcolonial print cultures are often found outside the archival catalogue and in lesser examined repositories such as personal collections the streets or appendages to established collections This volume examines the published and unpublished writing magazines pamphlets paratexts advertisements cartoons radio and street art that serve as the intellectual forces behind opposition to colonial orders as meditations on the futures of embryonic nation states and as visions of new forms of equality The print cultures examined here are necessarily anti institutional they serve as a counterpoint to the colonial archive and relatedly to more traditional genres and text formats coming out of large scale publishers This means that much of the primary material analyzed in this book has not been scrutinized before Many of these print productions articulate collective liberation projects with origins in the grassroots They include debates around the shape of the postcolonial nation and the new state formation that necessarily draw on a diverse and contentious public sphere of opinion Their rhetoric ranges from the reformist to the revolutionary Reflecting the diversity indeed the disorderliness of postcolonial print cultures this book covers local national and transnational cultures from Asia Africa Europe and the Americas Its wide ranging essays offer a nuanced and taken together a definitive though that is not to say comprehensive or systematic study of a global phenomenon postcolonial print cultures as a distinct literary field The chapters recover the efforts of writers readers and publishers to produce a postcolonialism from below and thereby offer a range of fresh perspectives on the meaning and history of postcolonialism Nursing and Empire Sujani K.

Reddy,2015-09-10 In this rich interdisciplinary study Sujani Reddy examines the consequential lives of Indian nurses whose careers have unfolded in the contexts of empire migration familial relations race and gender As Reddy shows the nursing profession developed in India against a complex backdrop of British and U S imperialism After World War II facing limited vocational options at home a growing number of female nurses migrated from India to the United States during the Cold War Complicating the long held view of Indian women as passive participants in the movement of skilled labor in this period Reddy demonstrates how these women in the lead pursued new opportunities afforded by their mobility At the same time Indian nurses also confronted stigmas based on the nature of their women s work the religious and caste differences within the migrant community and the racial and gender hierarchies of the United States Drawing on extensive archival research and compelling life history interviews Reddy redraws the map of gender and labor history suggesting how powerful global forces have played out in the personal and working lives of professional Indian women Fighting the tide Borges,

Caio,Dumas, Mary Louise,Elimah, Richard,Hudlet, Karen,Kaimowitz, Eliana,Kapoor, Arjun,Kithinji, Sylvia,León Cobo, Gabriela,Milanez, Felipe,Mitra, Darshana,Eugenia Najle, Yamile,Magalhaes de Oliveira, Rodrigo,Pontes, Jr., Felício,Quina, Margaretha,Brandão Timo, Pétalla,2017-08-24 This text forms part of a long term project undertaken by Dejusticia as part of its international work The project revolves around the Global Action Research Workshop for Young Human Rights Advocates that Dejusticia organizes each year to foster connections among and train a new generation of action researchers The workshop helps participants develop action research tools understood as the combination of rigorous research and practical experience in social justice causes For ten days Dejusticia brings approximately fifteen participants and ten expert instructors to Colombia for a series of practical and interactive sessions on research narrative writing multimedia communication and strategic reflection on the future of human rights The aim is to strengthen participants capacity to produce hybrid style texts that are at once rigorous and appealing to wide audiences Participants are selected on the basis of an article proposal which is then discussed during the workshop and subsequently developed with the help of an expert mentor one of the instructors over ten months until a publishable version is achieved such as the chapters that make up this volume The workshop also offers participants the opportunity to take advantage of new technologies and translate the results of their research and activism into diverse formats from blogs videos and multimedia to social network communications and academic articles Therefore in addition to the annual volume comprising participants texts and instructors reflections the workshop produces a blog in Spanish and English that features weekly entries by workshop alumni written in the style described above The title of the blog Amphibious Accounts Human Rights Stories from the Global South owes itself to the fact that action research is amphibious in that its practitioners move seamlessly between different environments and worlds from academic and political circles to local communities to media outlets to state entities For those who are dedicated to the promotion of human rights this often implies navigating these worlds in the global North and South alike Each year the workshop is centered on a particular current issue In 2014 the topic was the intersections between human rights and environmental justice that I outlined at the beginning of this introduction In addition to providing coherence to the book and the group of participants the selected topic determines the workshop site in Colombia for the sessions are held not in a classroom or convention center but in the middle of the field in the very communities and places that are witnessing the issue firsthand
