Book By Book Notes On Reading And Life:

Book by Book Michael Dirda, 2025-04-16 As warm and stimulating as a library to which one returns again and again the Pulitzer Prize winning critic discusses the rewards of reading books Chicago Tribune Editor's Choice Once out of school most of us read for pleasure Yet there is another equally important though often overlooked reason that we read to learn how to live Though books have always been understood as life teachers the exact way in which they instruct cajole and convince remains a subject of some mystery Drawing on sources as diverse as Dr Seuss and Simone Weil P G Wodehouse and Isaiah Berlin Pulitzer Prize winning critic Michael Dirda shows how the wit wisdom and enchantment of the written word can inform and enrich nearly every aspect of life from education and work to love and death Organized by significant life events and abounding with quotations from great writers and thinkers Book by Book showcases Dirda's considerable knowledge which he wears lightly Favoring showing rather than telling Dirda draws the reader deeper into the classics as well as lesser known works of literature history and philosophy always with an eye to what is relevant to how we might better understand our lives Highly cultured yet never pretentious Dirda's survey convincingly demonstrates what a wealth of life lessons moral emotional and aesthetic a good library can contain Publishers Weekly

Opening Hearts by Opening Minds Connie Wineland, 2007-06-01 This book is for Christian readers of fiction who might experience difficulty trying to make an informed choice beyond what is being published by evangelical presses Marketed to a specific target audience evangelical fiction oftentimes leaves a reader with a strong emotional response but lacks the literary depth or the breadth of subject that could inspire life changing spiritual growth With this premise at the heart of her book Connie Wineland includes her own story of conversion to Christianity by way of reading fiction During her late twenties and early thirties particularly while in graduate school Wineland became immersed in literary and rhetorical studies while also practicing an Eastern form of religion as well as Native American spirituality However despite all her training in literary theory her readings in Romantic Victorian modern and postmodern literature which she explains as well as her personal interest in mythology and world religions kept her questioning the existence of God and the possible nature of God Then as a relatively new convert to Christianity she faced several challenges at a small Christian college where she taught literature and writing courses Eventually wanting to reach beyond the academic community Wineland began a local Christian readers group which she ran for four years She includes in this book resources and materials such as sample syllabi and study guide questions useful Web addresses and plenty of how to information for starting and running your own book club Also included is an extensive list of annotated titles of recommended reading to get anyone started
