Ted Louise Dunham Goldsberry, 2017-03-22 Excerpt from Ted And Some Other Stories I have been very much interested in the little stories and sketches which you have been submitting to the independent There is a remarkable quality in your words which is quite unlike anything I have ever seen They seem to have that inherent value which the people who are advocating futurism in literature have been trying to get with marked unsucces You seem to have got this quality and your words have an extraordinary way of conveying emotions directly in many cases without the medium of the intellect I have been so much interested that it has occurred to me that many other people might see the same qualities in your work which I see and I have been wondering if it would not be a good idea for you to try to publish these in a book with an introduction to the effect that they were something entirely new in writing and something which indi eates new possibilities for the future If this thought interests you I should like to have the chance to talk it over with you and see if per haps I might not help you to approach some publishers with this end m View Hoping to hear from you soon I am Very truly yours william Room

Observations Upon the Natural History of Epidemic Diarrhoea (Classic Reprint) O. H. Peters, 2018-02-06 Excerpt from Observations Upon the Natural History of Epidemic Diarrhoea The causative agencies from which springs the plentiful harvest of child mortality in large cities may be conceived as a felted mass of rootlets almost inextricably intertwined Those of poverty bad housing bad feeding and neglect may be severally recognized but the extent of their interrelations with actual respiratory and alimentary disease those to which the greater part of the mortality is referred can be traced only with difficulty It is the object Of this work to aid In the labour of cutting away the matrix and entangling fibres and to lay bare the hidden ramifications of at least one important causative agency epidemic diarrhoea This affection if we accept provisionally the more novel and generally favoured conception As to its nature is revealed as something very like an ordinary infectious disease and one which permeates all classes while the excessive mortality it gathers round itself in urban centres must be regarded as something superadded owing to the vicious circle it forms with those baneful conditions of slum life mentioned above On the other hand its peculiarly intimate association with the circumstances of domestic life from the continual faecal pollution of the interior of the household by infants and others tends to make it more so than other affections of the kind peculiarly a class disease and an especial scourge of dirty neighbourhoods Dirty towns may however be saved from excessive mortality by a high percentage of breast feeding A notable point in the interesting comparison that can be drawn between diarrhoea and typhoid fever is that in accordance with their peculiarly opposite age incidence curves the marked and habitual depositing of infectious excreta within the household in the former disease may make the question of water closet versus conservancy pan a matter of far less importance than in the latter About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections
