#RhodesMustFall B. Nyamnjoh, 2016-04-18 This book on rights entitlements and citizenship in post apartheid South Africa shows how the playing field has not been as levelled as presumed by some and how racism and its benefits persist Through everyday interactions and experiences of university students and professors it explores the question of race in a context still plagued by remnants of apartheid inequality and perceptions of inferiority and inadequacy among the majority black population In education black voices and concerns go largely unheard as circles of privilege are continually regenerated and added onto a layered and deep history of cultivation of black pain These issues are examined against the backdrop of organised student protests sweeping through the countrys universities with a renewed clamour for transformation around a rallying cry of Black Lives Matter The nuanced complexity of this insightful analysis of the Rhodes Must Fall movement elicits compelling questions about the attractions and dangers of exclusionary articulations of belonging What could a grand imperialist like the stripling Uitlander or foreigner of yesteryear Sir Cecil John Rhodes possibly have in common with the present day nimble footed makwerekwere from Africa north of the Limpopo The answer Nyamnjoh suggests is to be found in how human mobility relentlessly tests the boundaries of citizenship Traditional Leaders in a Democracy Skosana, Dineo, Buthelezi, Mbongiseni, 2019-03-31 Post 1994 South Africa s traditional leaders have fought for recognition and positioned themselves as major players in the South African political landscape Yet their role in a democracy is contested with leaders often accused of abusing power disregarding human rights expropriating resources and promoting tribalism Some argue that democracy and traditional leadership are irredeemably opposed and cannot co exist Meanwhile shifts in the political economy of the former bantustans the introduction of platinum mining in particular have attracted new interests and conflicts to these areas with chiefs often designated as custodians of community interests This edited volume explores how chieftancy is practised experienced and contested in contemporary South Africa It includes case studies of how those living under the authority of chiefs in a modern democracy negotiate or resist this authority in their respective areas Chapters in this book are organised around three major sites of contest leadership land and law Re-imagining Curriculum Lynn Quinn, 2019-11-15 The book argues that academics academic developers and academic leaders need to undertake curriculum work in their institutions that has the potential to disrupt common sense notions about curriculum and create spaces for engagement with scholarly concepts and theories to re imagine curricula for the changing times Now more than ever in the history of higher education curriculum practices and processes need to be shared the findings of research undertaken on curriculum need to be disseminated to inform curriculum work We hope the book will enable readers to look beyond their contextual difficulties and constraints to find spaces where they can dream and begin to implement innovative and creative solutions to what may seem like intractable challenges or difficulties Handbook on Teaching and Learning for Sustainable Development Walter Filho Leal, Amanda Lange Salvia, Fernanda Frankenberger, 2021-06-25 Exploring the important role of education in both pursuing and implementing sustainable development this timely Handbook highlights how teaching methods at schools and universities can impact the future It looks at ways not only to inform students about matters related to sustainable development but also to empower them to adopt behaviours and actions that lead to more sustainable lifestyles

Rethinking International Skilled Migration Micheline van Riemsdijk, Qingfang Wang, 2016-10-04 In today's global knowledge economy competition for the best and brightest workers has intensified Highly skilled workers are an asset to companies knowledge institutions cities and regions as they contribute to knowledge creation innovation and economic growth and development Skilled migrants cross and many times straddle international borders to pursue professional opportunities These spatial relocations provide opportunities and challenges for migrants and the cities and regions they inhabit How have international skilled migratory flows been formed sustained and transformed over multiple spaces and scales How have these processes affected cities and regions And how have multiple stakeholders responded to these processes The contributors to this book bring together perspectives from economic social urban and population geography in order to address these questions from a myriad of angles Empirical case studies from different regions illuminate the multiscaled processes of international skilled migration In particular the contributions rethink skilled migration theories and provide insights into the experiences of highly skilled labor migrants and international students issues related to transnational activities and return migration and policy implications for both immigrant source and destination countries It also charts a future research agenda for international skilled migration research Rethinking International Skilled Migration provides a comparative perspective on the experiences of skilled migrants across the local regional national and or global scale paying particular attention to spatial and place based dimensions of international skilled migration It will be of interest to scholars and professionals in international migration regional and national development policymakers international businesses and NGOs

Fashioning the Afropolis Kerstin Pinther, Kristin Kastner, Basile Ndjio, 2022-07-14 A revelation Reclaiming fashion from its European history Shane White With a focus on sub Saharan Africa Fashioning the Afropolis provides a range of innovative perspectives on global fashion design dress photography and the body in some of the major cities with a focus on Lagos Johannesburg Dakar and Douala It contributes to the ongoing debates around the globalization of fashion and fashion theory by exploring fashion as a genuine urban phenomenon on the continent and among its diasporas To date fashion and city have not been systematically related to each other in the African context and for too long a western centric gaze has dominated scholarship resulting in the perception of Africa as provincial and its visual arts and textile cultures as static and folkloristic This perspective is all the more distorted given Africa's rich sartorial past With a huge number of tailors ready to adapt and renew clothing reshaping garments into contemporary styles and many cities in Africa becoming hot spots for a steadily growing and well connected scene of fashion designers in the past 20 years the time is ripe for a reevaluation and reconsideration of the fashionscapes of Africa Leading scholars offer an updated empirical and theoretical foundation on which to base new and exciting research on sub Saharan fashion challenging perceptions and offering new insights Early Cycladic Sculpture in Context Marisa Marthari, Colin Renfrew, Michael J. Boyd, 2017-01-04 The sculpture of the early bronze age Cyclades has been systematically studied since the time of Christos Tsountas at the end of the 19th century But that study has been hampered by the circumstance that so many of the subsequent finds come from unauthorized excavations where the archaeological context was irretrievably lost Largely for that reason there are still many problems surrounding the chronology the function and the meaning of Early Cycladic sculpture This lavishly illustrated and comprehensive reassessment sets out to rectify that situation by publishing finds which have been recovered in controlled excavations in recent years as well as earlier finds for which better documentation can now be provided Using the material from recent excavation projects and drawing on the papers presented at a symposium held in Athens in 2014 it is possible now to undertake a fresh overview of the entire body of sculpture from the Cycladic islands which has been found in secure archaeological contexts Beginning with early examples from Neolithic settlement sites and extending into a consideration of material found in later contexts the 35 chapters are divided into sections which examine sculpture from settlements cemeteries and the sanctuary at Kavos concluding with a discussion of material techniques and aspects of manufacture

The Politics and Science of Prevision Andreas Wenger, Ursula Jasper, Myriam Dunn Cavelty, 2020-05-28 This book inquires into the use of prediction at the intersection of politics and academia and reflects upon the implications of future oriented policy making across different fields The volume focuses on the key intricacies and fallacies of prevision in a time of complexity uncertainty and unpredictability The first part of the book discusses different academic perspectives and contributions to future oriented policy making The second part discusses the role of future knowledge in decision making across different empirical issues such as climate health finance bio and nuclear weapons civil war and crime It analyses how prediction is integrated into public policy and governance and how in return governance structures influence the making of knowledge about the future Contributors integrate two analytical dimensions in their chapters the epistemology of prevision and the political and ethical implications of prevision In this way the volume contributes to a better understanding of the complex interaction and feedback loops between the processes of creating knowledge about the future and the application of this future knowledge in public policy and governance This book will be of much interest to students of security studies political science sociology technology studies and International Relations The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.routledge.com/The-Politics-and-Science-of-Prevision-Governing-and-Probing-Wenger-Jasper-Cavelty/p/book/9780367900748> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license

Resistance to and Acquiescence in Apartheid Henry Mbaya, 2018-09-11 This book documents the history of a major Provincial Anglican theological college in Grahamstown St Paul's Theological College that existed against the backdrop of colonialism and apartheid Mbaya fundamentally attempts to explore a narrative of certain socio economic cultural and political struggles Resistance to and Acquiescence in Apartheid contextualises the mission of the Church in theological education during a period of deeply rooted inequality Thus one is left to ask the question What missionary role did St Paul's College play in the context of apartheid Indian Insects S Ramani, Prashanth Mohanraj, Yeshwanth HM, 2019-10-16
