and Social Justice Education is necessary because currently there is not an exclusively international Foundations of Education journal. For instance, three of the leading journals in Education Foundations are The Journal of Educational Studies, British Journal of Sociology of Education, and The Journal of Educational Foundations. These journals solicit manuscripts and support scholarship mainly from professors who reside in Britain and the United States. This journal is also unique because it will bring together scholars and practitioners from disciplines outside of Educational Foundations who are equally committed to social change and promoting equity and social justice inside and outside of K-16 schools.

Latino Educational Leadership

Cristóbal Rodríguez, Melissa A. Martinez, Fernando Valle, 2018-09-01

Latino Educational Leadership acknowledges the unique preparation and support for both Latinx educational leaders and Latino communities needed throughout the education and policy pipeline. While leadership in communities exists for educational purposes, this effort focuses on the institutional aspect of Latino Educational Leadership across K-12 schools and university settings. The purpose of this book is to create a greater collaborative focus on Latino Educational Leadership by inviting scholarly contributions and insights from both established and up-and-coming scholars. Latino Educational Leadership also advocates for the preparation of all leaders as well as the preparation of Latinx educational leaders to serve Latino communities. Our impetus on Latino Educational Leadership primarily stems from the changing demographics of our country. As of Fall 2017, Latinx student enrollment in K-12 schools reached an all-time high with Latinxs comprising 26.8% of the nation's public school enrollment. Postsecondary-level Latinx student enrollment has also improved, rising from 25% in 2005 to 37% in 2015. Given this growth, particularly at the K-12 level, there has been an increasing urgency to prepare and support more Latinx educational leaders. Their rich cultural and linguistic connections to communities help them more readily understand and meet the needs of Latino students and families. Aside from enrollment growth, Latinxs have made record strides in postsecondary attainment between 2003-04 and 2013-14: bachelor's degrees more than doubled from 94,644 to 202,412; master's degrees conferred rose from 29,806 to 55,965; and doctoral degrees rose from 5,795 to 10,665. Despite such promising gains, concern has not waned over how to best address the challenges this diverse student population continues to face in accessing, persisting, and matriculating across the P-20 Pipeline. There is still work to be done, as only 11% of all bachelor's degrees, 9% of all master's degrees, and 7% of all doctoral degrees were awarded to Latinxs in 2013-14. In particular, there is increasing urgency to address how higher education institutions can better prepare, develop, and retain Latinx leaders and scholars who will serve and meet the needs of Latinx college students to ensure their academic success. Thus, the purpose of this book is to advance the knowledge related to serving Latino communities and preparing Latinx leaders.
