A Place Called Home Ellie Dean, 2023-03-16 THE NINETEENTH CLIFFEHAVEN NOVEL BY SUNDAY TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR ELLIE DEAN Cliffhaven 1946 The war is over and those who have spent years fighting behind enemy lines are finally coming home Peggy Reilly is over the moon that her husband Jim is safely back from Burma But after the horrors he has endured adjusting to life at Beach View won't be easy Can he and Peggy find a way through Meanwhile evacuee Ruby Clark has much to contend with when her estranged mother turns up having completed a long prison sentence There's huge heartache still to come for Ruby and she will need her Beach View family more than ever Will the sanctuary of home give them each the strength they need to face the challenges ahead A Place Called Home Richard O. Davies, David R. Pichaske, Joseph Anthony Amato, 2003 2004 Minnesota Book Award Winner The Midwestern small town has long held an iconic place in American culture from the imaginings of Sinclair Lewis's Main Street and Sherwood Anderson's Winesburg Ohio to Garrison Keillor's Lake Wobegon But the reality is much more complex as the small town has been a study in transition from its very inception In A Place Called Home editors Richard O. Davies Joseph A. Amato and David R. Pichaske offer the first comprehensive examination of the Midwestern small town and its evolving nature from the 1800s to the present This rich collection gleaned from the best writings of historians novelists social scientists poets and journalists features not only such well-known authors as Sherwood Anderson Carol Bly Willa Cather Hamlin Garland Langston Hughes Garrison Keillor William Kloefkorn Sinclair Lewis Susan Allen Toth and Mark Twain but also many lesser-known and exceptionally talented writers Five chronological sections trace the founding growth and decline of the Midwestern town and introductory comments illuminate its ever-changing face The result is a wide-ranging collection of writings on the community at the heart of America A Place Called Home Jack Leonard, R. Martin Reardon, 2021-05-01 Describing global trends in forced displacement in 2019 Filippo Grandi United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees declared that we are witnessing a changed reality in that forced displacement nowadays is not only vastly more widespread but is simply no longer a short-term and temporary phenomenon At the end of 2019 almost 80 million people had been forced to leave the place they called home as a result of persecution conflict violence human rights violations or events seriously disturbing public order according to the United Nations High Commission for Refugees This volume presents the concerted efforts of chapter contributors to alleviate the alienation of those who have been displaced and help them to feel at home in the country in which they have sought refuge Chapter contributors highlight their endeavors specifically with Latino Hmong and African immigrants in the United States and Canada as well as with a veritable United Nations of immigrant identities in general Endeavors oriented to making immigrants feel at home inevitably raise the vexed question of what it means to be a good member of a society regardless of whether one is a citizen Designing a Place Called Home James Wentling, 2016-12-28 This insightful volume shares design ideas to help builders planners and architects create mass-produced affordable housing that pushes suburban development in more sustainable liveable directions The author argues that improving the quality of design in our new homes and communities for greater resiliency sustainability and equality we can build neighborhoods and communities where residents feel more connected to their homes and to one another Through text photographs and illustrations the book reviews prototypical American housing design then suggest ways to both learn from the past as well as adapt for new environmental imperatives demographic changes and lifestyle needs Written by a practicing architect with 25 years of experience optimizing residential design this pioneering approach to suburban building will inspire readers to view mass produced housing through a new modern lens

A Place Called Home Jessica Scott, 2019-03-04 Scott displays a deft touch with her main and supporting characters and a realistic moving development of Reza and Emily's romance Readers will ache cheer and worry in all the right places Publishers Weekly starred review Welcome home to the great place the home of America's Army where the men are strong and the women are tough enough to love them There's no crying in war That's what Reza Iaconelli believes with everything that he is because it's the only thing in his life that he's been able to control Running from the demons of his past he's given the his men everything hiding the worry and fear beneath a gruff exterior Nothing will stand in the way of him taking care of his men especially not some direct commission head doc who can barely put on her uniform He has no idea what she's even doing in the Army other than getting under his skin Emily may not know much about the Army but she knows that it's terrible at taking care of soldiers Running from a past that never accepted her she's looking for a place to belong Emily isn't fooled by Reza's rough angry exterior Beneath the hard edges she sees a man who's hiding using war as a means to escape the demons from his past When they collide over one of his soldiers Reza faces his toughest challenge yet As his efforts to remain sober start to fail he'll need to find the strength to do the one thing he's never asked anyone ask for help And it may be more than he's capable of Scott delivers another sensitive touching look at the trials and tribulations of modern military life at Fort Hood Texas tackling military suicides and the macho culture that contributes to them Publishers Weekly starred review Previously published as ALL FOR YOU as part of the Coming Home series

A Place Called Home Craig Nagel, 2007-08-29 For twenty five years readers of the Lake Country Echo in north central Minnesota have enjoyed the biweekly column by Craig Nagel called The Cracker Barrel His essays have been photocopied and sent to friends cut out and taped to the wall read aloud at group meetings reprinted in area newsletters and on occasion praised or damned in letters to the editor Nagel's observations of the world around him sometimes witty sometimes philosophical always fresh and unique have earned him a loyal following Now from the hundreds of essays that have appeared through those years in the Echo he's chosen the best and put them in book form Join him as he contemplates the mystery of the night sky on a midnight walk at 30 below zero stares eyeball to eyeball in the chicken coop with an intruding Great Horned Owl paddles his way through an autumn marsh as he and his wife harvest wild rice and reflects upon the mystical resurrection of early spring frogs who days before were entombed in frozen mud His insights offer the reader a walk down a road less traveled to moments filled with peace and quiet wonder Enjoy the magic of A Place Called Home
