

Questions identified as "Text" can be answered with material pulled directly out of the text.

Questions identified as "Research" require exploration from outside sources, using library resources or the Internet.

Questions identified as "Interpret" require reading the text and explaining, in your own words, the deeper meaning.

1. (Text) After she died, how did the towns view Emily Graham?

Everyone in town attended her funeral. The men looked back at her memory fondly, like she was a town institution. Whom she offended became their main concern about the inside of her house.

2. (Text) Describe the design of her house.

The huge house is square and decorated with architectural features: loggias, gables, and balconies (popular in the 1830's). The rough-hewn wood came from the forest in town, but has lost its gloss and its character and otherwise becomes too coarse. Emily's house is the best house on the street.

3. (Interpret) One of the hallmarks of Gothic (and Southern Gothic) literature is that the houses represent the condition of the houseowner. What does Emily's house say about her?

Emily, like her house, is very conservative out-of-date. She is old and men down, and central place in the neighborhood. It's been her life for as long as she has been alive in the neighborhood. Emily has rejected all the other women.

4. (Text) Describe Emily's appearance during her meeting with the children concerning her home.

She is a small, stout, overweight woman, dressed in black. She appears to look, as if she had died yesterday. Her doughy face has two small black eyes. She is a quiet woman with a quality of social awkwardness about her. The women feel obliged to show respectfulness.

5. (Research) What is the composition of dirt?

Dirt is composed of old charcoal, hair, clothing fibers, dirt paths, pollen, and insect parts.

6. (Interpret) One of the old Southern traditions of the South is treating women with honor and respect. How is this applied to Emily?

Each when her father died, Col. Sartoris created a tie about Emily's home taxes. Realizing that the young women probably could not afford to pay these taxes, he told Emily that long ago, the towns had borrowed money from her father. Instead of paying her back, the towns would cancel her taxes.

Sartoris created this tie to "protect" Emily. He knew that the chance of not being able to pay her taxes would affect her own family honor. Even the modern children are afraid to confront Emily because their own men do not to pick fights with women.

7. (Text) In Part II, how does the time shift in the story?
